Wishart Named Head State Property Owners Group

Committee To Help Landlords, Tenants In Transition: Will Urge Restraint

10 TO 25 PCT. RENT HIKES FORECAST

A Nebraska property owners committee was formed here Wednesday to help state landlords and tenants in the transition period when the recently enacted rent decontrol law goes into operation.

Attorney Joseph Wishart, Lincoln, who led the fight for decontrol, was named as chairman of the new group.

Other officers are Peter E. Marchetti, Omaha, D. V. Stephens, Lincoln, and Harold Payne, Omaha, all vice-chairmen; Don Dixon, Lincoln, assistant treasurer.

Each Community.

Committees in each community in the state also will be set up as part of the state organization, Ted Maenner, Omaha, national president of the Board of Realtors, said.

These committees will begin through publicity to urge property owners to use "the greatest restraint" in raising rents in Nebraska, Maenner declared.

Wishart said it is generally thought that rents will be increased 25 per cent over the 1942 "freezing point" and 10 per cent over the increases granted by the housing expeditor.

Officers of the state committee will meet with individual community representatives to discuss rent decontrol plans, Maenner said.

It is tentatively planned that the local committees will consist entirely of property owners.

Seek Bar Aid.

However, Maenner added that the group may seek to establish some formula as to who shall compose the local committees.

He said that a representative of the bar may be included in the committee and that the advice of tenants will be sought.

The committees will hear complaints of tenants who feel they have been dealt with unjustly, he said. It also will help persons who are paying rents that they cannot afford, find places within their means, he added.

Seek Nov. 1 Date.

Large apartment house owners at the meeting were urged to hold present vacancies open to take care of such cases.

This is an opportunity for Nebraska to "set the pattern" in regard to rent decontrol, Maenner said, and to "show the nation that Nebraska is going to be most temperate in anything that's done" concerning rent increases.

Maenner declared rent controls should not be lifted before Nov. 1. This will give a fair chance for landlords and tenants to "get squared away," he said.

Represented at the meeting were the six communities affected by rent decontrol and McCook and North Platte.

Nebraska was the first state in the country to pass a rent-decontrol measure. Maenner reported that both houses of the Florida legislature had passed a similar bill, and Texas, Alabama and Georgia are "working on it." The date set for the Florida decontrol is Aug. 15.

The group also met in the afternoon to discuss "fair" rent increases.

L.H.S. Commencement Shifted To Indoors

Lincoln high school commencement exercises will be held Wednesday, 8 p. m., at St. Paul Methodist church, Twelfth and M streets, Principal H. C. Mardis announced. The doors of the church will be open to the public at 7:50 p. m.

The exercises were originally scheduled to be held at Pinewood Bowl, but wet weather forced the change to indoors.

Support Of Wheat Extended

"Easy" Loans For New Storage Approved To Check Price Decline

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government counted heavily today on a temporary liberalization of its price support program to bolster sagging prices of wheat now being harvested.

It counted also on an agriculture department offer to make "easy" loans for building on new farm storage facilities to help stabilize prices of wheat, corn and other grains to be harvested later this year.

These two actions — announced yesterday by the agriculture department — were taken under a new law restoring to the Commodity Credit Corp. its authority to provide storage form farm products essential to carrying out price support programs. Such authority was taken away from the agency by congress last year.

Abrupt Drop In South.

The liberalized policy on price-support loans is expected to be particularly helpful to farmers in the southwest, where newly-harvested wheat is bringing as much as 50 cents a bushel below the nationwide price support average of $1.95.

Heretofore, price support loans have been available only on grain which was in satisfactory storage. Lack of such storage in the southwest has kept many farmers from getting benefit of the support program.

In areas where the climate permits, temporary price-support loans equal to 75 per cent of the full loans will be made on grain piled on the ground or in the open.

Given 90 Days.

Such loans will be granted on the understanding that the farmer must provide satisfactory storage within 90 days. He then will get the remaining 25 per cent of the loan.

The grade and quality of the grain will be determined when the temporary loan is made. Should the grain deteriorate before it is put in proper storage, the government would take the loss.

In areas where grain cannot be left in the open, the government itself will attempt to find temporary storage for the farmer in war surplus facilities, such as hangars and arsenals. The 75 per cent price support loans would be granted on such grain, still on the understanding that the farmer provide satisfactory storage within 90 days.

To encourage farmers to expand farm storage, the government offered loans for purchase or construction of such facilities, up to 85 per cent of the cost. Such loans would bear interest at 4 per cent a year and would be payable in five annual installments.

Tractor Kills Lexington Man

The state safety patrol Wednesday reported that Herman F. Orthman of Lexington was killed Monday when a farm tractor overturned on a county road two and a half miles southeast of Lexington.

Orthman's death brought the state's 1948 traffic fatality total to 73, compared with 92 at this date a year ago.

There have been seven so far this month compared to four in the first week of June last year.

Realtor Head Predicts Fair Rent Balance

. . . Following De-Control

T. H. Maenner, Omaha, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, said Wednesday in Lincoln that within three or four months after decontrol of rents, a fair balance of supply and demand would be created.

"The housing shortage has eased so materially in the last two years that this will very likely be possible," he told the Lincoln Real Estate Board at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday noon.

"Rent de-control for the state of Nebraska," Maenner said, "is an opportunity for property owners to demonstrate their ability to perform under freedom from control."

The de-control move, however, he said, "imposes a responsibility on the property owners to be very moderate in any rent increases made."

Maenner commended Nebraska property owners who are meeting at the Lincoln hotel today to set up committees in each city to urge care on property owners and hear complaints and aid tenants who feel they have not been fairly treated.

FRED W. GOEBEL

Fred Goebel, City Parks Head, Dies

Floral Expert Created Many Beauty Spots

Frederick William Goebel, 73, 740 A street, superintendent of all city parks, who developed many floral beauty spots in Lincoln's park system, died early Wednesday at his home after a brief illness.

His death was mourned today by hundreds of Lincoln residents, city officials and park employes who worked under him.

Mr. Goebel had served as assistant park superintendent from 1906 until 1941, when he was appointed superintendent of all city parks. He had also been manager of the Antelope park for several years.

Born March 5, 1876, at Bodinghausen, Westphalia, Germany, Mr. Goebel came to the United States in 1884 and settled in Clatonia. He farmed near Emerald prior to his marriage to Matilda King June 10, 1903. They moved to Lincoln at that time.

Before being employed by the city park department, he was with the Burlington railroad for two years and worked at Wyuka cemetery.

Mayor's Tribute.

Of his death, Mayor Clarence Miles said: "I have always regarded Mr. Goebel as an invaluable person to the city of Lincoln from the standpoint not only of park maintenance but also of loyal service to the city. He has been much beloved through his long years of employment with our city. His faithfulness and exceptional interest are truly commendable.

The trees and shrubs in our parks meant as much to him as the folk who looked upon their beauty. Mr. Goebel has been very extraordinary in his manner and attention to the tasks before him. These things I have said, I mean with all my heart."

Mr. Goebel was a member of the St. Paul Evangelican church, Modern Woodmen of America, the American Association of Zoological Parks, the City Employes association, the Lincoln Garden club and a former member of the chamber of commerce.

Mine Halt Ordered By Lewis

One Week "Cessation Of All Mining" Will Begin Next Monday

WASHINGTON — (INS) — John L. Lewis today ordered a "cessation of all mining" from Monday, June 13, until Monday, June 20.

The announcement, made by the United Mine Workers headquarters, said:

"This period of inaction will emphasize a lack of general stability in the industry and the dangers which will accrue therefrom if current harmful practices are not remedied."

ALL FIELDS AFFECTED.

The "holiday" order was contained in letters to all officers and members of the mine workers union.

The order applies to all hard and soft coal mining operations.

Lewis wrote:

"It (the work stoppage) will contribute constructively to the abatement of current economic demoralization; it will not adversely affect the public interests; it will help preserve property values in the industry; and it will help preserve the living standards of the mine workers, their dependents and the communities which depend upon the mine workers' income."

Denton School District Votes $30,000 Bonds

For New Elementary Grade School; Issue Carries By 49 To 1

The Denton school district has voted $30,000 bonds for construction of a new elementary grade school building.

The bonds will be auctioned off Friday night to the bonding company offering the lowest rate of interest. Voters in the district approved the bond issue Monday night by a 49 to 1 vote.

The new building will be one story brick veneer, housing two classrooms and seven smaller utility rooms, Frank E. Sullivan, moderator of the school board, said Wednesday. An architect is now working on the plans.

Construction is expected to begin next month, with completion probably next Christmas, Sullivan said.

The next building will replace the old structure which was condemned some time ago by the state fire marshal.

Since the district will be limited to the elementary grades (1 through 8, the 11 high school students will be sent elsewhere. Sullivan said no plans concerning their future have been made.

The new building will be located on ground to the north of the present school yard. Sullivan said the new school grounds will be twice the present size.

The federals suggested bringing a German girl to the United States to take part in Girls' State and also advocated improved health conditions.

The national party began chanting their slogan early Wednesday afternoon—"Be wise, nationalize!" Not to be outdone the federals came out with "Pump for Pumphrey, and she'll pump for you."

Boys' State Courts Begin Deliberations

Legislature Holds Business Session

Boys' State Supreme and District courts were busy hearing and trying cases and the youthful legislature opened its first business session Wednesday.

Following a lecture on "The Courts and Their Functions" by C. Russell Mattson, Lincoln, juries were impaneled for the two District courts. Both tried the same criminal case; the Taylor county court found the alleged forger not guilty, but the Fisher county body had a "hung" jury after three successive pollings.

Aiding the courts were adult advisers W. R. Hecht, Warren Johnson, Cecil Parker, and Gerald Davis, all of Lincoln.

Supreme Court Briefed.

The Supreme court, after a briefing of the 296 Boys' Staters on the high court's procedure by W. E. Nolte of the state attorney general's office, met to hear three cases actually tried in Nebraska.

The afternoon session of the Boys' State legislature began urgent work on several "serious" problems. Not least among these outlined by Gov. Jim Lancaster, 17, of Kearney, in his keynote address, is a proposed dance with members of Girls' State, meeting on the downtown University of Nebraska campus. Other proposals considered included second helpings in the mess line, improved roads and state aid to education.

Wednesday evening, members of the Nebraska state safety patrol will present a program on law enforcement. Also to appear is W. C. Sawyer, Indianapolis, director of the national Legion Americanism Commission.

Peterson Tells Of Danger In Lethargy

"Lethargy of its citizens is a much greater danger to American democracy than communism," Gov. Val Peterson told the youthful population of Cornhusker Boys' State Tuesday night.

"Too many Americans take too little interest in government," he charged. "When you go home from Boys' State, start making it your business to inform yourself about government and take part in it."

Gov. Peterson called for establishment of world-wide economy by "allowing people to develop themselves." "This give-away stuff is not good," he added.

"I hope your governor has a good legislature," he said, referring to the youth's mock senate organized Tuesday. "Governors are not always blest with an understanding legislature," he added with a smile.

Earlier, the boys heard a concert by their own 26-piece band, directed by Vernon A. Forbes. Golfers Ralph "Whitie" Reed, Lincoln, and Del Ryder, Grand Island and B. R. Patterson, University of Nebraska wrestling coach, took part in the pre-assembly recreation program.

It is planned to hold the services out of doors, but in case of inclement weather they be held in the hospital solarium, Dr. McDade said.

Windup Of Paris Talks May Be Near

Russians' Demand For 50-50 Voice In Berlin Is Rejected

PARIS—(AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Acheson demanded today that the foreign ministers council fix a five-day deadline for a complete end to the blockade of Berlin, French sources said.

Toward the end of an inconclusive four and a half hour session, Acheson insisted that the council send instructions to the four sector commanders in Berlin, asking a report on their trade and transportation negotiations by June 13.

This was interpreted by British sources as a demand that all restrictions on travel and transport from the west into Berlin cease by that date.

The council agreed to discuss this proposal at its session tomorrow. While the Soviet blockade and western allied counter blockade have been lifted there still are snarls in the free movement of traffic between east and west.

Breakup Foreseen.

Earlier a movement to cut off the deadlocked negotiations on Germany and Berlin in the council was reported gaining headway in western circles.

The report, from a responsible western official, came as Britain temporarily withdrew her first team from the conference table.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin left by plane to attend a labor party conference at Blackpool, but was scheduled to return to Paris tomorrow.

The informant said that in view of the deadlock within the council, the best course seemed to be the designation of special commissioners who could attempt to work out technical details of a currency agreement, arrangements for access to Berlin from the western zones and an accord on east-west trade.

Now in its third week, the current session of the foreign ministers' council thus far has produced only a restatement of widely divergent Soviet and western views on reunification of Germany and the restoration of a single municipal administration for Berlin.

The Soviet proposal for a 50-50 voice in Berlin has been rejected by U. S. Secretary of State Acheson as a device for imposing the will of one occupying power on the other three.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky had proposed, pending the lection of a Berlin city government, that the Soviet commander appoint 50 per cent of the personnel of a German commission to run the city and supervise elections.

Vishinsky said this would be "fair and equitable." Acheson said it would not, on the basis of population or any other standard, reminding that west Berlin had two-thirds of the population. He said also that the Soviet-sponsored SED party had received only 19 per cent of the vote in the 1946 election, and therefore 25 per cent voice for the Russians in the control of Berlin would be generous.

Resealing Program For Corn Offered

Farmers Can Extend Loans One Year Or Deliver Corn C.C.C.

Nebraska farmers who have loans on their 1948 crop have three choices under the resealing program now being offered by the federal government.

State Production and Marketing Administration Chairman Frank W. Reed said these are:

1. They may pay off loans Sept. 1, the original maturity date.

2. They may deliver the corn to the Commodity Credit corporation.

3. They may not later than Oct. 1, 1949, extend the loans to mature July 31, 1950.

Those producers who had purchase agreements with the government also have three choices. They may sell the corn to the CCC, keep it or put it under loan by Oct. 31 to mature July 31, 1950. If put under loan it would be at the 1948 rate.

Farmers who extend their loans or put purchase agreement corn under loan will be entitled to a storage payment of 10 cents a bushel if the corn is delivered to the CCC at maturity of loans.

Through March of this year about 243 million bushels of the 1948 crop had been put under loan and 52 million bushels under purchase agreements.

Reed said the total may hit 500 million bushels by the end of June.

In April 44 million bushels were put under loan and four million under purchase agreements.

N.E. Graduates Told To Make Own Contribution To Society

"Life is made up of those people who start well, those who finish well, and those who are finished before they are started," Dr. C. Vin White told the 158 graduating seniors of Northeast high school.

Dr. White, pastor of First Presbyterian church, was the principal speaker at commencement exercises at the school auditorium Tuesday night. His subject was "Grist, Grip and Greatness."

Aid Community.

He told the seniors they should apply the things they have learned for the benefit of their community.

"If a person is well educated he should be able to recognize whatever grist comes to his mill. Some people are incapable of this," he said.

"Some people are so realistic that they lose sight of their ideals," Dr. White said in warning the class against developing "blindness and astigmatism."

Continuing, he declared, "There is a certain blindness in the economic aspects of our society which makes us sneer at the little things."

"Do not be content until you have made a real contribution to the human race," the speaker continued. "Our land may not be secure because it is the strongest — each person's insecurity is a weakness for the country."

Robert Venner, president of the board of education, before awarding the diplomas, called Northeast one of the best high schools in the nation.

He said Lincoln high schools are graduating almost 1,000 youths this spring. Northeast graduating class numbered 85 girls and 73 boys.

The class was presented by R. S. Mickle, Northeast principal, who reminded the audience that full co-operation from the parents of students is necessary for the school to function properly..

State Again Soaked By Heavy Rains

1.27 Inch Falls At Pawnee City; Lincoln Total .45

Nebraska can expect more rainy weather tonight and Thursday, the weather man declared.

Moisture ranging up to 1.27 inches at Pawnee City fell at scattered points throughout the state Tuesday, on the heels of excessively heavy rains which soaked central and western Nebraska points Monday.

Other precipitation totals for the past 24 hours included Ashland .91, Auburn .52, Beatrice .18, David City .15, Fairbury .30, Friend .87, Humboldt .68, Nelson 1.10, Osceola .70, Plattsmouth one inch, Polk .32, Sterling 1.02, Weeping Water .95 and York .95.

Lincoln's rainfall up to noon today totaled .45 of an inch.

The Republican river at Cambridge was falling today after heavy rains in the west sent it to near flood stage. The river crested at Bloomington Wednesday morning at 5.7 feet, more than a foot below flood stage. The river is continuing to fall at Guide Rock and Hardy.

The week's heavy rains in Cheyenne county, capped by a five-inch downpour that flooded the highway and washed out a section of railroad track Monday was recorded as a phenomenon that occurs only once in 25 to 50 years.

Department of agriculture charts show that two or more inches of rainfall in an hour can be expected in that section of Nebraska on an average of once in 25 years; four or more inches of rain in an eight-hour period occurs on the average of once in 50 years.

Monday the fall exceeded two inches in one hour and 3.87 inches came within an eight-hour period.

Meanwhile, the heavy rains Monday night caused some damage in the Lushton-McCool area. At the Everett Bellows farm, where the storm apparently centered, the rainfall measured 5.20 inches. About half the west basement wall of the Bellows home was washed out by the heavy rain.

The rain there was accompanied by a heavy wind and some hail. At Lushton the rainfall measurement was four inches. As a result the Blue river rose rapidly Tuesday, covering the floor of the bridge east of McCool. Sections of the road between Lushton and McCool were under water Tuesday.

Mrs. Sarah Breese, Former Resident, Dies In Wyoming

Mrs. Sarah Breese, Greybull, Wyo., a former Lincoln resident, died there Monday. Mrs. Breese moved to Wyoming from Lincoln about 15 years ago. Prior to living here her home was at Sutton.

Surviving are one son, Delbert, Greybull, and one nephew, Grover C. Baker, Lincoln.

Funeral services and burial will be held in Lincoln.

Fort Randall Bid Date Is October

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Army engineers probably will ask bids in October for the first contract to clear land for the reservoir to be formed above Fort Randall dam in South Dakota.

Rep. Case (R-SD) said today that Brig. Gen. S. D. Sturgis, jr., Missouri river division engineer, had written him that the engineers propose to accomplish the necessary reservoir clearing with about five contracts. These will be let concurrently.

The initial contract will be for an area of about 1,500 acres of wooded bottom land extending some six miles upstream on the Missouri river from the dam site.

Four subsequent contracts will cover an additional 15,000 acres of timber and brush lands. These contracts, Surgis wrote Case, will be advertised between 1950 and 1953.

Sturgis said the engineers planned to have the salvaged merchantable timber stockpiled at convenient locations to facilitate inspection and sale.

STARTING 12TH YEAR OF SELF-REGULATION

Eleven years ago this month the brewing industry in Nebraska launched a unique Self-Regulation program. Its objective was to insure that beer be sold only by responsible persons in respectable places in full accordance with the law and the standards set by the industry.

Progress has been made. The men and women who patronize the state's taverns will attest to the fact that law observance has reached a new high level.

The results of eleven years of work indicate that much has been accomplished. The brewing industry will keep faith with the public by continuing its educational program among retailers.

Elder Bistram Is Charged With Kidnaping

Minnesota Man Held In Omaha Jail

Bond Fixed At $20,000

OMAHA—(AP)—One of three gunmen who led officers a wild chase for three days across five states was in the Douglas county jail here today.

He was 37-year-old Arthur Bistram of St. Paul, Minn., who was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner George W. Dittrick at Norfolk yesterday. Bistram was charged in a federal warrant with kidnaping Ralph Senn, Mandan, N. D., police officer. He did not enter a plea.

Complaints Pending.

Bistram's brother, Carl, 27, and Allen C. Hartman, 20, the other members of the trio were captured near Morrowville, Kas., yesterday. Similar kidnaping complaints are pending against them. The three are also charged with robbery and are wanted for killing a Minneapolis policeman.

The elder Bistram gave himself up near West Point, Neb., Monday night.

Bistram's bond was fixed at $20,000 by Commissioner Dittrick and he was ordered committed to the Douglas county jail pending a preliminary hearing.

Victims Uninjured.

FBI Agent James Dalton said the federal kidnaping charge on which Bistrom was arraigned could bring a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison.

Though the federal statute provides for the death penalty where victims are harmed, the FBI man said, the penalty does not hold where victims are returned uninjured.

Senn, Dalton pointed out, was uninjured.

At West Point, Sheriff Charles Sass said he had been told by outside officers investigating the case, Bistram said Carl Bistram had shot the Minneapolis suburban Policeman Fred Babcock, jr., during an attempted burglary of a grocery store in Minneapolis last Saturday. Sass said he did not talk direct to Bistram about this statement.

ALLEN G. HARTMAN, 20, sought with two companions for a Minnesota killing, kidnaping and robbery, lies in a Marysville, Kas., hospital, victim of the wreck of their get-away car.

BILL J. BEATY, JR. 21, Tekamah, Neb., was identified as the hitchhiker or hostage riding with the two fleeing desperadoes who wrecked their car near Morrowville, Kas. He is recovering from injuries in a Marysville, Kas., hospital. (AP Wirephotos.)

CARL BISTRAM, 27, former convict, is recovering in a Marysville, Kas., hospital from injuries received Tuesday as he and a companion ended a five-state chase by wrecking their auto 15 miles south of Fairbury, across the Kansas line.

Condition Of Injured Men Satisfactory

Both Are Kept Under Guard

MARYSVILLE, Kas. — (AP)— Two injured gunmen, accused of murder and kidnaping, were reported in satisfactory condition early today at a Marysville hospital.

The men were seriously injured yesterday when their automobile crashed into a creek bank near Washington, Kas. Until the accident, they had eluded officers of five states for 72 hours.

The two are Carl Bistram, 27-year-old ex-convict, and Allen G. Hartman, 20, both of St. Paul, Minn.

Sought In Killing.

Arthur Bistram, 37, a third member of their group, surrendered Monday night at West Point, Neb. The Bistrams are brothers.

At Kansas City, Dwight Brantley, special agent in charge of the FBI there, said the U. S. marshal at Topeka would take custody of the two gunmen here today. He will take them to Topeka to await their removal to Fargo, N. D., where they are wanted on a charge of kidnapping a Mandan, N. D., policeman.

The trio had been sought since Saturday in the killing of Fred Babcock, jr., a Minneapolis suburban police officer. During their flight they kidnaped six persons.

Arthur Bistram gave himself up at a farmhouse where the three had retreated in Nebraska. The other two continued their flight into Kansas. They picked up a hitchhiker, identified as Bill Beaty, jr., of Tekamah, Neb., on the way.

Two Knocked Unconscious.

When their automobile hit a creek bank, Bistram and Beaty were knocked unconscious. Hartman, also injured, was able to reach a nearby farm house. The house belonged to C. H. Smith, brother of Washington County Sheriff Bill Smith.

Officers were called and the men were brought here.

Bistram and Hartman are being kept under constant guard.

Flying Farmers Will Take Deadwood Trail From Sidney To S.D.

SIDNEY, Neb.—(AP)—Nebraska and South Dakota Flying Farmers will gather in Sidney Thursday night, poised for a flight Friday morning along the old Deadwood trial from Sidney to the Black Hills.

At least 50 planes will take part if the weather is favorable, according to Neal Dunlavy of Potter, general chairman of the flight.

The Sidney airport was a quagmire after heavy week-end rains but flight officials said a few hours of dry weather will put the newly graded runways in condition.

Thursday night the visiting fliers will be entertained by the Panhandle Cloudusters, a local flying group.

They will see a group of specially trained youngsters do the Virginia reel and other old-time dances, will view a number of educational aviation pictures and then will take part in an old-time dance.

Friday morning, the Sidney chamber of commerce will fete the visitors at a pre-flight break-

Characteristics Of Early Adventurers Are Praised

. . . By Speaker At Geo. Winslow Observance

FAIRBURY, Neb.—(AP)—If present day Nebraskans would "honor the pioneers we must seek to emulate the characteristics which carried them on," the Rev. F. H. Stephenson said Tuesday.

Rev. Stephenson, pastor of the First Christian church here, spoke at a chamber of commerce luncheon honoring the memory of George Winslow a pioneer who died on the Oregon trail 100 years ago today, and was buried just outside Fairbury.

The minister said these pioneer characteristics were the ability to accomplish a great deal with one's own hands, to work and save for old age and posterity, co-operation and "Godfearingness."

Lay Foundation.

The first things pioneers did in this part of the country was to build schools and churches, he said, thus laying the foundation for an enduring social order.

The other principal speaker at the program was G. R. Le Roy, who gave a history of the ill-fated trip to the west 100 years ago in which Winslow died.

He also read a letter from Mrs. George S. Winslow of Meriden, Conn., whose late husband was the grandson of George Winslow. She thanked the chamber for its gesture in honoring her pioneer ancestor.

Le Roy described how the party of Massachusetts adventurers of which Winslow was a member left Boston April 16, 1849, going by rail to Buffalo, by river steamer to Sandusky, O., by rail to Cincinnati and by steamboat to St. Louis.

Camped On Blue.

From there the party went by boat to Independence, Mo., jump-off point for the long overland trek.

On June 5 the party camped on the Big Blue river and late the next day they crossed into what is now Jefferson county, Nebraska.

Two days later Winslow, then 26 years old, was stricken with Asiatic cholera and the following day he died.

His party made a coffin and a group went to the old government limestone kiln about two miles away and brought back a piece of sandstone about four feet long on which with rude tools they carved the inscription, "Geo. Winslow, Newton, Ms. AE 25, 1845."

Winslow was buried and the gold seekers went on their way. For 40 years the relatives in upper Newton Falls knew nothing of Winslow's grave except that he was buried somewhere on the Oregon trail between Fort Laramie and St. Joseph.

In 1891 the grave was located and in 1912 the D.A.R. unveiled a new mounment at the site of the grave.

Winslow and the spirit of those who shared with him the task of opening the west are being honored this week in Fairbury's observance this week.

Jake Bird Nearer Rope

Loses Last Round To Avoid Hangman

WALLA WALLA, Wash.—(AP)—Jake Bird's latest, and possibly his last, maneuver to beat the noose was denied by a Federal court judge yesterday.

A new execution date — his fourth—will be set soon.

The 48-year-old Negro was convicted of murdering Mrs. Bertha Kludt in Tacoma in 1947. Her daughter was also slain. At the time of his conviction, Bird pronounced a hex on those responsible for his conviction. Since then five persons connected with the case have died.

Police officials who have questioned Bird since his conviction said he admitted knowledge of or implication in 44 slayings throughout the country.

It was through these confessions — and the investigations which followed — and through a highly skillful series of legal maneuvers that Bird gained previous stays of execution.

Chief Judge William Denman of the Ninth U. S. District Court of Appeals rejected the convicted ax-slayer's latest appeal for hearing. Denman held with three previous courts that there was no basis for Bird's complaint that police had beaten a confession from him.

Bird's third scheduled walk to the gallows was postponed for 30 days on May 26 by Judge Denman.

Convict Perches On Tower During 14-Hour 'Strike'

WAUPUN, Wis.—(AP)—Convict George Taylor, cold and hungry, climbed down from near the top of a 50-foot water tower at the Wisconsin state prison early today after a 14-hour "sitdown strike."

Taylor, 38-year-old Negro from Kenosha, Wis., had perched on a catwalk under the 50-foot water tank from noon yesterday until 2 a. m. (CST) today. Temperatures dipped into the 30s during the night.

Warden John Burke said Taylor's only explanation was that he wanted to "show everybody that he was being 'mistreated' in prison." Taylor was given something to eat, Burke said, and then placed in solitary confinement pending a psychiatric test later today.

Guards, stationed at the foot of the tower throughout Taylor's sitdown, seized him when he descended. Burke said guards would have had a difficult time removing Taylor as the safety bands around the ladder would render them almost defenseless.

The warden said Taylor has served 15 years of a 20-year sentence for armed robbery.

Paulette Gets Decree

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Paulette Goddard's Mexican divorce from actor Burgess Meredith is final today.

Greg Bautzer, her attorney here, said he had received word from the Mexican attorney who represented the actress in her suit at Cuernavaca, Mex., that the decree was entered last Friday and would become final today.

Miss Goddard returned from Mexico Monday. It was the third marriage for each. She and Meredith separated several months ago.

'Old Faithful' No Less Faithful Even If Older

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo.—(INS)—Park officials have denied a report that "Old Faithful" is becoming more old and less faithful.

Park service experts said yesterday that the geyser, one of the most famous of many scenic attractions in the park, came through the winter "in fine shape."

They declared "Old Faithful" will continue to erupt on the same 63-minute schedule and to the same height during 1949 as it did in 1870 when first discovered.

Now, A Referendum

It is announced by the Nebraska State Farm Bureau federation that petitions will be circulated to submit the two highway revenue measures to popular referendum. Except for possible loss of time in highway work, it may be just as well to have a showdown now. We think the people of Nebraska want roads. We believe that the majority of voters recognize that the highways they crave cannot be constructed without paying for them. The bills which passed the legislature had the uncompromising enmity of incongruous groups. It isn't often that a farmers group, some of the big oil interests, and the truckers crawl under the same tent. It is true that a referendum may contribute uncertainties to the construction program for 1949, hold up the letting of contracts, and make it difficult for the highway department to formulate its plans. But if a continuing opposition is to wage a bitter-end fight in and out of season we might as well have the people of Nebraska speak. If we have a highway program of any permanency it is because the people want it, understand it, and are willing to pay for it. We are inclined to believe that the farm bureau federation has taken on a bigger assignment than it realizes.

Mrs. George L. Sheldon

Mrs. George L. Sheldon came to the executive mansion as one of Nebraska's youngest first ladies. Her husband had broken the ice of boss rule in party politics; and, in the two years that he served Nebraska as governor wrote into the statutes more reform legislation than was enacted in the 25-year period preceding him. He was a one-termer because he accumulated so many political enemies they defeated him for re-election. He and his wife removed to Mississippi where they have resided since. She was a gracious and charming woman, and the news of her death at 78 years of age recalls the very useful part she and her husband filled in an era of Nebraska history.

Candidate For Senator

Harlan Trott, of the Washington staff of the Christian Science Monitor, recalls that Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, who is spearheading charges against David Lilienthal, comes up for re-election next year, or in 1950. Senator Hickenlooper until recently has identified himself with the Vandenberg leadership in the senate.

The Iowan throughout most of his first term has been a distinct improvement upon some of his predecessors. But he has gotten himself into an awkward position in his attack upon the atomic energy commission. An excerpt from Trott's account of the hearing on Lilienthal reveals it:

"The testimony took a devastating turn against Senator Hickenlooper's table-thumping determination to belittle the administrative qualifications of the witness when Mr. Lilienthal read a citation from a record of the meeting between the committee and the commission on May 12. At that time, according to the excerpts from the official transcript, Senator Hickenlooper praised the commission for 'an unusually high order' of its security procedure. Senator Hickenlooper was also quoted directly as lauding the commissioner's 'loyalty and character' record and remarked that an 'unusually low' number of persons had been refused access to restricted areas."

A man's right to change his mind is admitted, but such a contradiction as projected by Trott's news account must excite curiosity.

Servant or Master

The Lilienthal inquiry gives no indication of coming to an early conclusion, which perhaps is just as well. We can afford to give a lot of thought to it. Since the day that the atomic bomb exploded over Hiroshima atomic energy has become a modern mystery. The Christian Science Monitor sets it forth so excellently:

"In the whole range of modern life nothing is more generally misunderstood than the atom. Baleful and shrouded with mystery it appears in the day's news ringed with communist spies, flanked by Miss Giggles in the Pumpkin Papers, exploding into the mystery of the missing drams of uranium. To a generation brought up on blood-curdling comic strips full of desperate attempts to steal world-shattering secret formulas this makes good reading. But to sober physicists and those familiar with the background and history of nuclear research it fantastically misses the point. The issue goes very deep. It leads to the question: Is the security of a free people based on the atom? Or is it based on the intelligence, alertness and confidence that can make the atom the servant rather than the master of man?"

We ask a great deal when we demand that a member of congress be a scientist, or a scientist adopt the habits of thought of a United States senator or a member of the house of representatives. The two are poles apart.

It has become so clear that political thought inspired by atomic energy is in complete conflict with scientific knowledge. The latter says on the basis of long scientific experience that no nation ever has succeeded in monopolizing the secrets of research. The former seems to feel for some inexplicable reason that the brains which perfected atomic energy can be copyrighted to become the exclusive property of a single government. It just isn't true. It may take years for other governments to equal or to exceed us but science does not recognize national boundaries, and never will.

What we should be concerned with is the recognition that if we are to maintain a supremacy in the atomic age we shall risk bold pioneering—and that means accepting in full understanding the risks of pioneering. We cannot hem it in with the tightly drawn security precautions to which we have been accustomed.

The Winslow Memorial

One of the speakers at the annual dinner of the Nebraska State Historical society a few years back spoke feelingly of the lonely graves along the route of the original Oregon Trail. One such is the grave of George Winslow, who died at a camp fire site approximately six miles northwest of the present city of Fairbury. Winslow was a member of a Massachusetts party headed for California in the gold rush of '49. He was taken ill of Asiatic cholera, seventy-two hours later was dead. Of such as this were the foundations of the early western settlements. The Fairbury chamber of commerce held fitting ceremonies Tuesday as a climax to a week of special observance. We are getting older in Nebraska and we assume that our historical shrines will mean more to us. Other Nebraska communities may take inspiration from the planning carried out by Fairbury's citizens. A marker to 100 years of history is well worth while.

What Price Public Service?

A few years before his death we heard the late Dr. A. E. Sheldon, of the Nebraska State Historical society, make one of the most ingenious arguments for an appropriation before a legislative revenue committee. Dr. Sheldon was talking about the adequate compensation of lawmakers. He recalled that as a member of a pioneer Nebraska legislature he received the handsome salary of $100 a session.

"I am quite sure that legislature contained numbers of men of equal capabilities or of intellectual stature to the membership of any legislature Nebraska has had either before or since then."

It may not have been either diplomatic or convincing, but it did revive the aging issue of adequate pay for public servants. We haven't the slightest notion what the $100 salary to which Dr. Sheldon referred would buy in the way of meat and bread, but obviously infinitely more than today.

Under the amendment creating the Nebraska unicameral legislative salary expense is limited to $37,500 per year, or $75,000 per term, to be divided into 43 equal parts since there are 43 members of the legislature. That gives each member $872 a year, or $1,744 for the biennium. In addition, a member is entitled to transportation by the most direct route from his home to the legislative chambers, and back again. If the legislature keeps a member in Lincoln 150 days, the pay averages $11.16 a day, out of which he must pay for meals, room and all other incidental expense.

In the light of proposals to increase the membership, to extend the length of the term from two to four years, and to meet annually, we will be hearing a great deal more about legislative pay.

A PRIMER ON THE BIG MUDDY

Q: Will the Pick-Sloan plan for Missouri basin development supply large amounts of cheap electricity? A: Obviously, if carried out in conformance with the views of Gen. Lewis Pick, Missouri basin development will; if developed along lines proposed by Co-Author Sloan, in view of the controversy that has arisen in connection with the Garrison dam, the result is not so certain.

Q: Would the private power companies prefer the Pick-Sloan plan to an MVA? A: Yes.

Q: So far as can be determined are the spokesmen for the private power interests plugging for the Pick-Sloan plan in preference to an MVA? A: Many people, who have no interest in the fight being carried on by the private utility interests, favor the Pick-Sloan plan. Many honest and conscientious advocates of river development unwittingly play right into the hands of the private power people by contributing to a false cry of regimentation by federal bureaucracy. The governors of the states served by TVA openly declare that TVA does not interfere with the affairs of a sovereign state. They have found it possible to work harmoniously with TVA, to the best interests of all. But if the private power spokesmen can confuse the public by leading it to believe an MVA would rule their lives, they will do so. We have yet to hear the first instance where the private utility people have supported an authority for river basin development. They always have fought it.

Electricity is at the bottom of the present controversy over Missouri basin development. General Pick of the army engineers favors a high dam at Garrison to generate immense amounts of power. Director Sloan supports a lower water level at Garrison. That would mean less electricity. The Brannan plan ignores this vital multiple purpose of river basin development to emphasize forestation and soil conservation. Neither projects a clear policy on the distribution of electricity. They leave undetermined whether the power should be distributed privately or publicly.

The governors, including Governor Peterson of Nebraska, will have to make up their minds what position they favor. The people of the Missouri basin states will have to adopt a policy on the matter of generation and distribution of electricity. We are wasting time and space in arguing these related questions of soil conservation, forestation, etc. It is silly to talk about shelterbelts in Iowa, eastern Kansas and Missouri. Those states are not in the least interested in shelterbelt planting. It is absurd to discuss erosion on equal terms in Iowa, Nebraska, the Dakotas, and Montana. It is a waste of time to try to lump together irrigation needs in Iowa for example, and across the river in Nebraska. But if all these conflicts can be lumped together to produce confusion and dissension, then nothing will be done in the end. If nothing is done, the private utility people, naturally bitterly opposed to generating vast amounts of power on the Missouri, unless they can retail it to the customer, have won their fight.

That is why we say the issue in the simplest terms is an MVA. That is why all of the guns are turned upon an MVA, including those manned by the private utility interests themselves, along with those in the hands of honest people, honestly misled in the belief that an MVA would strip the people of these basin states of their sovereignty. The fight is over electricity. No one of sound mind would quarrel about curbing floods, stopping erosion, encouraging soil conservation. All people are for these objectives. The fight starts and ends with electricity.

OFF THE RECORD

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The dramatic, day-long caucus of senate democrats to thresh out their labor differences showed up some of the basic cleavages in the democratic party. Senators closed down the senate, crowded into their stuffy conference room, pulled all doors shut behind them, and let down their hair for eight hectic hours.

They came out better educated but just as widely split over replacing the Taft-Hartley law.

Only the low rumble of voices leaked through the thick, wooden doors. But here are the highlights of that important meeting.

Hottest issue was whether to authorize the president to seize plants and keep strikers working in industries affecting the national welfare. North Carolina's amiable Sen. Clyde Hoey, who still wears striped pants and swallowtails to work, wanted too adopt an injunction-power provision right then and there.

PEARSON says Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois (above) stressed that his five suggested compromises on the labor bill had been approved by both AFL's William Green and CIO's Phil Murray. Senator Pepper of Florida charged that the compromises were "Taft amendments."

Big Paul Douglas of Illinois, the popular liberal who shows signs of going conservative, suggested letting the government operate the struck plants for a 90-day cooling-off period only. Minnesota's scrappy Hubert Humphrey thought 30 days was long enough.

But it was sharp-as-a-needle Millard Tydings of Maryland who got down to brass tacks. He not only insisted upon giving the president authority to operate struck plants, but warned bluntly: "If you don't do it, you'll lose 19 Southern votes, including mine."

This caused dynamic Matt Neely of West Virginia, an old labor warhorse, to explode.

"You may make a lot of compromises around here," he bristled. "You may even pick up six Southern democrats and five republicans. But you'll lose 10,000,000 democrats at the next election."

Before the fireworks began, the morning session started off more like a classroom lecture. Labor Chairman Elbert Thomas of Utah, author of the Taft-Hartley repealer, played the professor, explaining his bill and answering questions. It was all very scholarly until Virginia's Willie Robertson, whose views out-Taft Taft, accused Thomas of telling him how to vote.

This brought the usually gentle Utahn to his feet, puffing angrily.

"I'm not telling anyone how to vote," he exploded. "I'm not here pleading for the bill. I'm here to explain it."

At the height of the morning session, Vice President Alben Barkley walked in and brought the discussion to a temporary halt. He was reminded of Henry Van Porter, he drawled, a character on the Amos 'n' Andy radio program.

"As Henry Van Porter would say, 'we are all brothers in the lodge,'" cracked the vice president.

Barkley then gently chided the assembled democrats on their obligations to party platform pledges.

"I don't want anyone to vote against his principles," he said, "but it is important to remember that we are writing a labor policy and we made certain assurances to the people."

The caucus finally got down to brass tacks when Illinois' Douglas suggested five compromises worked out by a coalition of liberal democrats and republicans.

Douglas's amendments, since made public, call for collective bargaining, non-communist affidavits, financial reporting, free speech, and a 90-day cooling-off period in strikes affecting the national welfare. These apply both to management and labor.

In presenting these compromises, Douglas stressed that he had been given the green light by labor.

"If Bill Green (AFL) and Phil Murray (CIO) hadn't approved of these," declared Douglas, "I wouldn't offer them."

Humphrey followed up with four amendments along the same lines, but not as strong as those advocated by Douglas.

"I am not going to be for any amendments," added the Minnesotan, "unless there is a gentlemen's agreement to go down the line and support this measure. If the labor law of the country is going to be a rehash of the Taft-Hartley act, let the republicans do it. I want no part of it."

Thomas warned that he never would accept any amendments not "in harmony with the intent and spirit of repealing the Taft-Hartley law."

Majority Leader Scott Lucas argued that it was better to write a moderate labor law than to leave Taft-Hartley on the books. Though no vote was taken, most of the democrats approved of compromising.

Most outspoken against compromise was Neely, who shouted: "I know what happened when Chamberlain appeased Hitler. That's what is going to happen to the democratic party."

Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida agreed with Neely that every one of the compromises were "Taft amendments."

Those who argued for even more compromises were Sens. Holland of Florida, McFarland of Arizona, Hoey of North Carolina and Robertson of Virginia.

McFarland insisted that state laws should have priority over any federal labor law, and the other three chorused their agreement.

Meanwhile, the fight that started in the democratic caucus has been carried over to the senate floor.

NOTE: Both Douglas and Humphrey distributed confidential sheets at the caucus, explaining their proposed amendments. Though these were supposed to be for the eyes of democrats only, Senator Taft was reading copies before noon that day.

County Plans "Vacant Lot" Playgrounds

. . . Survey Ordered

Youngsters in Lancaster county may have additional space to play in this summer as a result of action taken Tuesday by Lancaster county commissioners.

The county board authorized Chairman Russell Brehm to investigate the possibility of converting some of the county's vacant lots in Lincoln and other nearby towns into children's playgrounds.

Brehm was instructed to make a survey of available property and to report back to the board lots best suited to playground conversion.

Several Lots Considered.

All playgrounds set up by the county, according to Brehm, will be supplied with customary recreational equipment. He said, however, the matter of supervision will be decided at a later date.

Play sites listed for consideration include property on Bradfield drive comprising about two-thirds of a city block and another quarter-block section at Seventh and Rose streets.

There are a number of other vacant lots which will be surveyed, Brehm said.

USE OF THE FLAG.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Saturday morning I saw the misuse of the American flag that still has me burning. A car owner, apparently without knowledge of the flag, was using what appeared to be a flag similar to those used on veterans' caskets for a a seat cover on his car. Having had such a flag in my family for a number of years and being a veteran myself, I am upset about such treatment of the flag.

VIADUCT HAZARD?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Now that most of the city streets are repaired, I hope to see work started on the O street viaduct. This viaduct is in such a dangerous condition that a driver cannot hold his car on the right side of the road even at the low speed required. I have seen the car ahead of me dart out almost in the path of a car coming from the opposite direction due to the pull from the blocks or boards which form the driving surface. This should be repaired before someone gets hurt.

NO LONGER TERM

Curtis, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I read with interest a letter concerning the four-year term for legislators. I agree that would be too long; however if they are liked their constituents may decide to keep them as long as they choose. If they are allowed to fix their own salaries, will it be according to what the people think they are worth or according to their own greed? We know. Every succeeding legislature passes larger appropriation bills than the ones previously passed. Only a few short years ago 50 million shocked the people of this state. Now it is nearly trebled. The last legislature talked economy for a while but seemed to be in lobbyists' hands near the close. The best suggestion is to increase the membership. This would keep the body closer to the people and hinder the lobbyists from gaining control. I believe that the state's expenses would grow even faster if the legislature met oftener. C. R. HERRICK.

ARGUMENT FOR MVA

North Loup, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Former Governor Leslie Miller of Wyoming, himself an engineer and a member of the Hoover committee on government reorganization, rips the hide off the army brass and its dominating corps of engineers in a recent issue of Satevepost. The Missouri river project is treated well and contrasted with TVA, which Miller grudgingly approves. The article shows the waste of effort and money because of the quarrels between the Bureau of Reclamation and the army sliderulers and sets out the essential difference: Reclamation plans and develops projects and gets its money back, while the army has no concern about a project ever liquidating the cost of construction. The present controversy between General Pick and Engineer Sloan about the capacity of a dam on the Missouri river may be trivial in itself but goes to the core of the spat between two rival government agencies and is a strong argument for Missouri Valley authority. There are those who wonder what training or experience Nebraska's teacher-editor governor has had to qualify him to speak with authority on behalf of the army's Missouri program for river navigation. The reclamation service enjoys the respect and confidence of the public, with its own corps of engineers. The army engineers are employed civilians and are backed by the influence of chambers of commerce and organized business. Under the proposed Murray bill MVA has no paid propagandists. H. M. DAVIS

SECURITY FUNDS.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Both the democratic and the republican platforms adopted at the national conventions declared for revision of the social security act. Bills for revision are being held in the ways and means committee with not much prospect of their getting out for passage by the present congress. The reasons are plain now. The facts for this delay are reported in the editorial columns of The Omaha World-Herald by Senator McClellan (dem., Ark.) Here are the facts as reported by him in the 12 years that the act has been in force. Fifty-two billions have been collected with an outgo of 14 billions for the purposes for which it was collected, 38 billions of dollars supposed to be in the funds but not there. Bonds issued by the treasury cover this 38 billions with less than a quarter billion in the fund. That 38 billion has been used for current expenses and handouts to people who never contributed one thin dime to the fund, while the ones it was supposed to go to are holding the sack. Those on old age and survivors insurance have paid in billions of dollars for their security in old age. It is nothing more or less than an outrage, it seems to me. The social security act was passed at the request of the late President Roosevelt, but before his death the funds were being used for a purpose for which it was not collected, and at the present writing it is being used for other purposes for which it was not collected. Employers and employees should revolt against the abuse of the social security funds. They ought to begin to pound the congress and the president and demand a showdown on this matter.

B. S. KECK.

NOTE: Mr. Keck does not make himself clear. Does he mean the money should have been paid out to present beneficiaries. It is in government bonds, now.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by

MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — The kind of fishing expedition Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper is conducting is bound to bring to light some surprises. No project so vast and difficult as the development of atomic energy, involving so many people and surrounded with a wall of secrecy, could possibly be perfect.

Marquis Childs

Whether the fish will be big or little — that is to say minor errors or major errors — the public may never know except in the most general terms. So strict are the security regulations that Senator Hickenlooper himself may have violated them in his statements about "enriched uranium" missing from the Argonne national laboratory in Chicago. When asked if this was security violation, atomic energy commission spokesmen reply with "No comment."

There are, however, facts which can be known, and it is possible that a fishing expedition may not bring them to the surface. Take, for example, the commission's struggle to enforce security in contracts being carried out by private manufacturing firms.

This involved a decision to order an end to collective bargaining with the United Electrical Workers, the principal union in the electrical industry. The commission took that step last fall, requiring the General Electric company to cease recognizing the UEW as the bargaining agent for workers at the atomic energy installations in the Schenectady area.

The reason for this step is obvious. The UEW has been repeatedly charged with communist domination at the top; a charge made by officials of the CIO, who are seeking to purge the communist direction of certain CIO unions.

With the pressure that unscrupulous union officials could bring to bear on individual employees, who might themselves be completely loyal, such a union could not be tolerated. If the UEW could function as the collective bargaining agent for workers on highly secret contracts at Schenectady, the same union would probably be interested in organizing the atomic plant at Hanford, Wash., which is also operated by General Electric.

The decision was taken only after the union had been offered a full opportunity to come forward to try to resolve the question of loyalty. Rejecting this opportunity, officers of the union elected instead to bring a million-dollar damage suit against the company and the commission. A Federal court has upheld the action of the AFC.

This is only one example of the kind of positive action taken by the commission in the interest of ever-increasing security. It was not easy to do, particularly since no other agency of government had taken such a step. The navy today has contracts for work just as secret as that of the AFC, and the UEW is the bargaining agent for the employes engaged in that work.

The problem of the use of fissionable material by several hundred persons in various laboratories illustrates the gravity of the security problem. The U-235 referred to by Hickenlooper, in the story deliberately "leaked" by someone on the inside, is constantly passing through one process after another. It cannot be catalogued in exact quantities from hour to hour nor even from day to day.

The fissionable material that is stored is checked each day. Likewise the bombs are counted each day. Incidentally, think what a job that would be—to count those eggs of mass death and be sure that each one was in its proper place.

Chairman David Lilienthal and the other members of the commission are fearful that the positive side of security will not be developed in the current fishing expedition. They are well aware that incidents can be blown into headlines, which serve chiefly to increase the atomic jitters afflicting at least a portion of the population.

One special phase of security has just been tightened and double checked. A special effort is being made to prevent the deliberate leaks that seem to originate with a handful of disgruntled persons who wish to discredit Lilienthal.

The story of the missing U-235 was an instance. If espionage had been involved, which the commission and the FBI specifically and

German Church Leaders Help In Rebuilding

. . . Their Country

German church leaders are cooperating "enthusiastically" with churches the world over in rebuilding their war-ravaged country.

That was the statement of Dr. Otto G. Hoiberg, associate professor of sociology and superintendent of community services with the extension division at the University of Nebraska, Tuesday night before the Axis Business and Professional Women's club at the Y.W.C.A. Dr. Hoiberg was the religious affairs division of the military government in Germany for three years.

The sociology professor reviewed the conditions affecting religion that existed in Germany immediately following the war. He told of the obstacles to resumption of normal religious life, which he said are rapidly being overcome.

Dr. Hoiberg said about a third of the evangelical churches were totally destroyed and another third were badly damaged. Shortages, which included bibles, is one of the obstacles obstructing the return to normal religious life, he said.

Dr. Hoiberg's wife, who was in Germany for two years, told the women's group of her impressions regarding religion there. The two were introduced by Mrs. Nevada Wheeler, vice-president of the club, who presided at the meeting.

Escapees From Hospital Caught In St. Joseph

The last two of three patients who escaped from the state hospital on May 29 after starting a fire to distract guards, were taken into custody Tuesday by law officers at St. Joseph, Mo.

Dr. F. L. Spradling, superintendent of the state hospital here, reported that the pair, Francis Simon, 31, Rulo, and Richard Roxsie, 21, Omaha, will be returned here. They are being held in the St. Joseph city jail.

The pair, along with Maurice Shearer, Omaha, escaped after setting a small fire and then using smuggled keys while guards put out the blaze. Shearer was recaptured the same night.

$17,105 In Benevolence To Wesleyan

Amount Far Below Last Year's Fund

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. —(AP)— Nebraska Wesleyan university at Lincoln profited by $17,105 in sharing of benevolence money by the Nebraska Methodist conference action here yesterday.

Adoption of a resolution and amendment proposed by Chancellor John L. Knight allots to the school $22,242 instead of a proposed $5,137. The amendment calls for 50 per cent of the benevolence money alloted for education and ministration to the sick and aged to go to the university.

Salary Proposal Fails.

Knight contended the orginal apportionments were based on the amount of profit or loss shown by an institution. Other institutions affected by the amendment are Bryan Memorial hospital, West Nebraska Methodist hospital, Crowell Memorial home and Nebraska Methodist hospital.

Last year Wesleyan received $31,759 in benevolence money.

A move to raise the conference's eight district superintendents' salaries from $4,400 to $5,000 failed to get support at a conference session and was defeated by a large margin.

91 Pastors Changes.

While a series of routine reports consumed the general conference time yesterday, the real interest lay with the outcome of pastorate appointments by the conference cabinet. Bishop Dana Dawson reported that 91 ministers would be moved to new charges. There are 278 Methodist ministers in the conference and some 350 churches. The appointments were announced Wednesday morning at a closing session of the annual conference.

The number of changes was described as unusually large but something that happens in cycles.

Elevators In East Able To Handle Wheat

Scott Believes: Suggests Midwest Grain Be Moved

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The wheat storage problems in Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Colorado would be partly solved if the Commodity Credit corporation moved 25,000,000 bushels to eastern elevators, according to Walter R. Scott.

Scott, executive president of the Kansas City board of trade, told legislators from the four states that there was storage space east of the Mississippi river capable of handling 145,000,000 bushels.

He told the senators and representatives at a luncheon called by Senator Reed (R-Kas), that only 35,000,000 bushels now are stored in these eastern elevators.

Scott said that the CCC has been urged to move 25,000,000 bushels now stored at Omaha, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Mo., Hutchinson and Wichita, Kas., to eastern elevators. He said the CCC has refused, although it had done so in previous years when a problem arose.

Reed said that under present conditions the western eelvators will be unable to handle the movement 10 days after the harvest begins.

Senator Butler (R-Neb), said that the great need is for more storage space on the individual farms but that not enough farmers had built such storage.

The group decided to gather more information, arrange conferences with CCC officials and meet again in a short while.

Council Approves Zoning Change At Randolph, 27th

... For P.O. Substation

The city council Monday granted the request of Mrs. Charles E. Crouch, 745 South Twenty-eighth, for a change to local zoning of a vacant lot on Randolph between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth.

Mrs. Crouch, who wants to construct a building there to lease to the postoffice as a substation, had been refused on a previous request to rezone the whole half block.

The applicant appeared before the council with a map and pointer to aid her in explaining her position. When she had finished answering councilmen's questions, Mayor Clarence Miles told her "You do a better job of presenting this than a dozen lawyers would."

Pansing Opposed.

Tom Pansing opposed granting the change on the grounds that whole sections, at least a block, should be zoned for local business at a time, rather than making zoning changes for only one or two lots.

In other actions Monday the council:

Denied an application of Mrs. Edna Perrine for a permit to maintain a third-floor apartment in her house at 1621 A street. Third floor apartments in frame houses are prohibited by ordinance, although the prohibition was suspended for a time during the war. The council ordered the building inspector and fire chief to appear next Monday to give their opinions on again suspending the prohibition.

Granted an application by the Western Good Roads Service company for permission to erect a sign at 3245 South Tenth. The zoning board had twice refused to allow erection of the sign by a split vote of 2 to 2.

Took under advisement a request by the Lincoln City Lines to install two 2,000 gallon tanks for oil and gasoline on city property on the north side of J between Seventh and Eighth streets.

Took under advisement a request from J. A. Humann, 4860 Lowell, for better school stop signs or school warning signs near the College View elementary and junior high schools.

Granted Consumers Public Power permission to build an underground transformer vault under the sidewalk space on the east side of Twelfth between O and P.

Granted the Railroad Men's Benefit and Social club of Lincoln an on-and-off sale beer license at its new location at 217 North Ninth.

Contracts Let On Graveling 20 Miles Mail Route Roads

A $10,440 contract for graveling 11 miles of mail route roads in the northwest portion of the county was awarded William Knight of Chapman by county commissioners.

A second graveling contract for $8,616 on nine miles of roads in the northeast portion went to the Carlson-Frantz company of Palmyra.

A third contrat for construction of a 300 foot steel bridge one half mile west of Waverly was awarded to the Capitol Bridge company on a low bid of $3,970. The bridge will span Ash Hollow creek, a branch of Salt creek.

The board also granted a license for operation of weekly midget auto races to Walter Harding, president of the Lincoln Aviation Institute, located north of F lock.

Purchase of an auomatic mailing machine plus scales and cabinet was also approved by the board for use in the court house, from the Pitney-Bowes company, Omaha, at a total cost of $700.

Nebraska Polio Pool Dissolved

FREMONT, Neb.—George H. Bates, Fremont, chairman of the Nebraska polio fund committee, today announced that the state pool of funds of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and its Nebraska chapters was dissolved on June 1.

Bates disclosed that the state pool, created Sept. 15, 1948, during the largest epidemic of polio in the state's history, had received funds from Nebraska county chapters of the national foundation and the national foundation totaling $100,496.85. Of this amount, $28,850 came from Nebraska county chapters, while $71,646.85 came from the national foundation's emergency epidemic aid fund. An additional $50 was contributed oy the Pioneer Nite Baseball league last November.

In announcing the dissolution of the state pool, Bates pointed out that continued after-care of victims of the 1948 epidemic will continue to cause heavy drains on chapter funds throughout 1949.

Other volunteer members of the state polio fund committee were: William Strateman, Lincoln, treasurer; Leonard B. Harrison, Scottsbluff; E. V. Rossiter, Hartington; Mrs. Charles M. Bosley, Palisade; Roman L. Hruska, Omaha; and Chancellor R. G. Gustavson of Lincoln who also served as state chairman of the March of Dimes.

Health Board Meeting—The Lincoln-Lancaster board of health will meet June 15 in the offices of the health department.

Famed Outlaw Again Behind Prison Bars

. . . Free For 11 Months

BURNS, Ore.—(AP)—A notorious southwest killer and bandit was behind prison bars again today after 11 months of freedom.

George Kimes, who held a top spot among Oklahoma outlaws back in the 1920s, surrendered without an argument to Sheriff Eldon Sitz and his deputy. He had been working in this southeast Oregon area on ranches and in lumber camps since last fall.

He walked away from the Oklahoma state prison 11 months ago when sent to the prison kennels to feed dogs.

Kimes was serving a 50-year term for bank robbery. He previously had completed a term for murder.

Sitz arrested Kimes on a tip from a fellow worker.

Injury And Damage Suits Filed Over Dog

Irving O. Thompson, 820 South Fiftieth, claims a dog, "accustomed to biting," bit him last March 12 and injured him to the extent of $300. The claim is set forth in a petition filed Tuesday morning in County court against Carl A. Woolfarth of 1835 South Fifteenth and alleged owner of the dog.

At about the same time Tuesday morning Thompson's wife, Ruth E., filed a $3,500 damage suit against Mrs. Mary Woolfarth in District court, alleging that last April 12 Mrs. Woolfarth "assaulted" her and "knocked her to the pavement" on the Thompson premises.

Mrs. Thompson claims personal injuries and damage to her clothing as a result of the alleged assault.

Omaha And Wisner Girls Nominated

In Girls' State Gubernatorial Race

Teresa Littlejohn, Omaha, nationalist party and Nancy Pumphrey, Wisner, of the federalists, were nominated for the office of the Cornhusker Girls' State governor in Tuesday's primary election.

Caucuses for the nomination of city and school board officials in the six towns in Girls' State were to be held Wednesday morning. Featured during the afternoon session will be the general election of state, county and city officers.

Nominations for lieutenant governor were awarded to Margie Jo Konipek, Beemer federalist, and Patricia Livingston, nationalist candidate from Omaha. For secretary of state, the girls selected Delores Lux (F), Hartington, and Jessie Norman (N), Omaha.

On the nationalist ticket, Mary E. Gerhart, Newman Grove, and Nancy Stephan, Omaha, were nominated for state treasurer and state auditor. For the respective offices on the federalist ballot, the girls elected Rita Ann Kisicki, Omaha, and Joan Chicoine, Valentine.

Dolores DeBower (N), Schuyler, and Carole Gatz (F) Omaha, will run for the office of attorney general.

On the non-political ballot, Ann Baumgartner, McCook, and Nancy Bollinger, Omaha, were nominated for the post of chief justice in the Supreme court. The candidacy for state superintendent of schools went to Lois Daly, Broken Bow, and Donna Willits, Silver Creek.

75 Nominated.

Other county and state office nominations were received by some 75 girls.

Following the announcement of primary results, Mrs. Oscar Hahn, Grand Island, former womens' affairs chief in Berlin, Germany, spoke to the Girls' Staters.

She told the girls she was shocked upon her return to the United States by the lack of individual responsibility of citizens of the United States as portrayed by the small number who voted in the November election; by the trends in American way from the type of government which made America great; by group selfishness and by the way Americans accept communism as a political party instead of a philosophy of life.

Sec. Snyder Undismayed By Outlook

'Nation Should Face Future Confidently'

SUN VALLEY, Idaho—(INS)—The highest total of unemployment since the war failed to dent the confidence exuded by Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder today.

Snyder told 350 members of the Utah Bankers' association last night that the increase to a total of 3,250,000 idle is a "labor force figure due to a large army of ex-GI's graduating from college." He said:

"The nation has every reason to face the future with confidence and enthusiasm. We can look forward to an era of expanding opportunity equal to that of the west.

"Return to normal conditions should not dismay American business men."

He declared that atomic energy, television and developments in rubber, penicillin and insecticides will have "as great an effect on America's development as the airplane or railroad did."

In response to the question "Are teachers' salaries high enough in Nebraska?," in a recent 20-question examination on state problems and issues submitted them, 202 boys voted "no," 56 voted "yes," and 20 marked their questionnaires "undecided."

Loyalty Vote Divided.

An affirmative majority was registered on the query, "Should all teachers be required to sign an oath pledging loyalty to the government of the United States?" Of those marking their questionnaires, 185 said yes, 72 no, and 25 were undecided.

To the question of "Do you believe Nebraska takes adequate care of its aged people?" 133 said no, 111 yes, and 37, undecided.

For Farm Program.

Asked if they thought Nebraskans should support the 1949 democratic farm program, a majority of 160 voted affirmatively, 46 said no, and 73 were undecided. They polled against adoption of a state sales tax, 146 to 94.

A heavy majority, 247 to 19, was registered favoring the proposal of penalizing a state by the federal government "if it denies to any citizen, because of race, color, religion, or nationality, rights which it grants other citizens."

Opinion came near equally dividing on the question, "Do the boys and girls of Nebraska have equal opportunities for education regardless of where they live?" Of the 279 who responded to the question, 105 said yes, 167 said no and 7 were undecided.

Asked "Do you believe there are better and more opportunities for a good life in a city than in a small town?" the totals showed 197 disagreed, 62 thought there were, and 18 were undecided.

Al Walters, of Omaha, was named president of the Nebraska State Federated Craft at its eleventh annual convention Sunday at Craftsmen's lodge temple Sunday. He succeeds A. B. Enborg, of Lincoln.

Other officers named by the group were: F. T. Anderson, Lincoln, first vice president; William Duhn, Omaha, second vice president; A. A. Kauffold, Omaha, secretary, and L. L. James, Lincoln, treasurer.

Rev. Thomas Barton was principal speaker at a banquet held in the evening. A. W. Edling was toastmaster. Mrs. Rasch Meyers presented a reading and Miss Zuella Coleman gave a group of whistling solos with Miss Hilda Chowins accompanying.

No Injuries In Three Accidents

Three "hit and run" accidents, in which one of the parties left the scene of the accident without reporting it, were reported to police Monday.

In one accident, it was a pedestrian struck by a car who did not report, in another a bicycle rider, and in a third the driver of a car.

E. H. Aicher, 1835 Lake street, told police he was backing out from a parking stall along P street south of Ninth when a pedestrian stepped off the curb. The woman was knocked to the ground, he said, but she refused any aid and refused to give her name.

Thirteen-year-old Danold Schmidt, 727 South Ninth street, reported that he was going west on N street and making a turn south on Ninth when a south-bound car struck his bicycle and left the scene. He was not injured.

And in another car-bicycle accident, Harold Peterson, 3071 S street, the driver of the car, reported that he was going west on Charleston and turning south on Tenth street when a boy on a bicycle darted out in front of the car from the east and struck him. Peterson said he stopped but the boy didn't.

Released From Pen, Taken On U. S. Charge

Ralph Reaster, 40-year-old Lexington man, was placed under arrest by United States Marshal Frank Golden Tuesday morning immediately upon his release from the Nebraska state penitentiary.

Reaster faces a federal charge of forging the endorsement of a United States treasury check. The case against him has been transferred from the North Platte division of the Federal court.

Reaster had served over 13 months of an 18-month sentence from Dawson county for forgery.

Doctors Still Set Against Truman Plan

"Voluntary Insurance" Advocated By Group

ATLANTIC CITY—(AP)—Two top-drawer members of the American Medical association said today it would be absurd to interpret restrictions on the activities of Dr. Morris Fishbein as a softening of the organization's fight against compulsory health insurance.

"Our position hasn't changed at all," declared Dr. R. L. Sensenich of South Bend, Ind., retiring AMA president. Dr. Elmer Henderson of oLuisville, Ky., chairman of the board of trustees, nodded assent.

Reporters had raised the question whether the board's action in muzzling Fishbein's comments on "controversial subjects"—without front office approval—meant a change of heart about the AMA's fight against what it terms "socialized medicine."

Fishbein Major Critic.

Fishbein, editor of the AMA Journal, has long been an outspoken critic of such proposals as President Truman's current plan to deduct the costs of future sickness from a worker's take-home pay.

Sensenich said that Fishbein had been more outspoken against compulsory health insurance than was Dr. Ernest Irons of Chicago, newly inducted president of the AMR, in addressing the 98th annual convention last night.

Irons declared that the "fight" against the Truman plan "is not that of medicine alone; it is the fight of all America."

What does the AMA favor instead?

Sensenich and Henderson said the organization still stood by "voluntary insurance" (for pre-payment of sickness costs) that is actuarially sound—whether supervised by commercial companies or state medical societies.

Bank Is Granted $900 Judgment In Check Suit

County Judge Harry A. Spencer Monday found for the National Bank of Commerce in its lawsuit against Dr. Louis E. Marx over a disputed amount of currency used to procure a $10,000 cashier's check, ordering the defendant to repay $900 to the bank.

The bank, asking a judgment of $900, claimed the currency brought to the bank for the cashier's check totaled $9,010 but that through a teller's error, a check of $90 rather than $990 was requested and received to make up the difference.

Dr. Marx's mother handled the Sept. 3, 1948 transaction at the bank.

"Everybody acted in good faith. It was just a mistake of fact," Judge Spencer said Monday.

Recourses Research Stepped Up

...Plan Dowling Aide

An intensified program for the State Resources Division with the addition of an assistant to Allen Dowling, chief of the division, was announced Tuesday by Rufus M. Howard, chairman of the committee. Budget for the work was increased from $25,000 to $100,000.

The new assistant will direct research and publications and permit Dowling to devote a greater part of his time in directly contacting eastern industrial centers to promote industrial growth of the state, Howard said. Two office assistants will aid in the work.

Dowling also will work directly with the federal government in the proposed survey of Nebraska potential for development of synthetic liquid fuels. Nebraska was one of 36 states named by Maj. Gen. Lewis Pick for such research.

Projects approved include a folder and information card for distribution to out-of-state tourists which the state safety patrol will use this summer in a count of the tourist traffic in Nebraska.

The division also will publish a monthly news bulletin covering development activities in Nebraska agriculture, industry and business, with progress information on new production techniques.

Plan Brochure.

Additionally, the division will prepare immediately a folder of general state information for distribution in response to public inquiries, for communities of the state and for use in schools. Later on, a more comprehensive brochure detailing Nebraska's economic, social and geographic assets will be released by the division.

The division will continue its regular services in cataloging and prompting possible industrial sites in the state, supervising community industrial inventories, and in encouraging research in and use of agricultural products in manufacturing.

Committee members attending the Monday session were Don Thompson, McCook; Frank P. Dicus, Fremont; Lloyd C. Thomas, Kearney; Henry Klosterman, David City; Fred M. Attebery, Mitchell; Paul S. Kruger, Ft. Calhoun, and Howard.

Interest In String Music Is Increasing

. . . Wishnow Says

General interest in string music and the performance of it is on the increase, according to Emanuel Wishnow, associate professor of violin and conductor of the University of Nebraska Symphony orchestra.

Writes Views.

His views are expressed in the current issue of The Music Journal, one of the foremost American professional music publications.

In his article, Wishnow reports on the use of film strips in Nebraska to help teach high school and other students the fundamentals of a number of instruments, including strings.

Such devices, Wishnow says, help rejuvenate interest in string playing which suffered with the intense popularity of school bands. He adds that the advent of television may stimulate interest in violin, particularly.

As evidence that Nebraska schools are maintaining an interest in strings, Wishnow reports, "In a survey prepared by Grant Mathews of Scottsbluff Junior college, 60 senior high schools out of 81 that were questioned, taught instrumental music which included orchestra as well as band . . . This can be interpreted as a sign that in Nebraska, schools are maintaining orchestra and string instrumental programs."

4-H Clubs To Hold Contest Here Friday

Lancaster county will be host Friday to a district 4-H judging day to be held at the University of Nebraska agricultural college.

About 500 members and leaders of 4-H clubs are expected from Lancaster, Cass, Gage, Otoe, Saline, Saunders and Seward counties.

The program will begin at 10 a. m. There will be sections dealing with homemaking, foods, clothing, dairy, animal husbandry and crops.

Money Taken From Car—Ivan Hatfield, Waverly, reported to police that Sunday someone broke into the locked glove compartment of his car while it was parked on Forty-eighth between Lowell and Meredith and took an envelope containing $130 in currency.

"Six Exciting Weeks" End Tonight For Norma Sharrett

. . . Blind Girl Returns With 'Rita' From Hollywood

(Special To The Star)

ENROUTE TO LINCOLN FROM LOS ANGELES—Six weeks of exciting adventures will be brought to a close Wednesday night when Norma Sharrett, petite, gentle-mannered student at Nebraska's School For the Blind, steps off the transcontinental plane in Omaha from California with Rita, her fawn-colored Guide dog.

The story of Norma and her dog is a veritable Santa Claus-in-June adventure, for it was in 1937 this young blind girl first began to long for a Guide dog. Her uncle, Roy Sharrett of Chicago, encouraged and helped her start saving toward the dog's purchase.

Last month, with no hint of the surprise in store for her, Norma was told she had been invited to appear on Ralph Edwards' "Truth or Consequences" radio show in Hollywood. She was mystified and very excited when W. C. McMillen, superitnendent of the Nebraska School for the Blind, put her on the plane for California.

First Trip.

"I'd never been out of the state of Nebraska," Norma told the Star, "and I guess if I'd stopped to think, I might have been a little apprehensive. I didn't know who would meet me. I'd never been on an airplane. But the whole thing was wonderful!

"It was a big plane and I like the sensation of flying. The stewardess introduced me to Miss Clara Murin of the International Guiding Eye, Inc., when we got to Los Angeles. The stewardess told me she was from Mr. Edwards' agency. There was another man introduced to me as my driver, but it was really Capt. L. A. Kreimer and he just wanted to study me, without my knowing it, to see what type dog I should have. He really trains the Guide Eye dogs and the people who use them."

All Exciting.

Norma was whizzed from the airport to the Knickerbocker hotel in Hollywood, she says and laughs at her impressions of all the traffic and noise.

"I wouldn't want to live here, but it has been exciting. I like small towns and most of the time, of course not this winter in all that snow, I like Nebraska!"

The day following her arrival, Norma was taken to the studio and given a Braille script for a scene she was to play with John Wayne, prominent star of both screen and radio.

"Everyone was so nice to me," she recalls, "they were co-operative. Of course, well, Mr. Wayne is just 'out of this world.' But I had no idea he would be so nice to work with. I still wasn't frightened—just terribly excited. I was interested too.

"Mr. Edwards is just like he is on the radio—all kinds of pep. He was everyplace at once, making people laugh. I heard him get his audience in a receptive mood for the broadcast. No wonder people laugh, he gets them to feeling like they want to. They didn't tell me a gun would go off before the broadcast and I nearly jumped out of my skin when it did.

"Then it was time for Mr. Wayne's and my skit. He's really wonderful!"

Promoter Scene.

From the tone of Norma's voice, Mr Wayne will always have a staunch fan in her. It was a dramatic scene, a spotlight in the darkened studio picking up the six-foot-four actor and the scant five-foot blind girl. Slowly but surely it moved to its climax where Norma was presented with her dog, Rita, a gift of the International Guiding Eye, Inc. The young Nebraskan had been picked from among hundreds of applicants by J. W. Jones, sr., president of the non-profit organization, founded to give Guide dogs to the blind.

"I called my dog 'Rita' after Rita Hayworth, because Capt. Kreimer, and I found out he was really my trainer and not a driver, says she looks just like the actress. Big brown eyes and red-gold hair!"

The thirty-five pound Shepherd has a disposition comparable to Miss Sharrett's, the captain explained, they are both small and peppy.

"The dog must fit her mistress," he went on, "and they must understand one another. Otherwise, we could not build the close relationship between the two."

Following the broadcast, Norma moved to the captain's Burbank home as a guest of the International Guide Dog, Inc., and began her rigorous course of instruction to use and have faith in her dog. Norma and Rita have followed steep mountain paths, wound in and out of city traffic, toured stores and public buildings.

Mountains Best.

"I have seen a banana tree and an orange grove," she declared, "but I like the mountains best! They are fun, so high! But, the ocean is fun too. Miss Bonita Loesch, who was the stewardess on my plane, invited me to go swimming in the Pacific. It was a funny feeling, the waves came fast, but they went away just as fast. Scared? No, I wasn't scared, they just felt funny."

But the friends she has made, Capt. and Mrs. Kreimer, who have been so good to her, Mr. Jones, who has made her dog and training possible, Mr. Wayne, who played her radio scene with her, Mr. Edwards, who brought her to Hollywood and gave her her opportunity, all pale into insignificance in Norma's perspective compared with her dog, Rita.

"We go everywhere together now, just like we are one person," she explained. "I have been worried I would get behind in my school work but the school sent on my lessons, and I've kept up. This summer I will go to Lincoln and work at the Goodwill Industries and baby-sit, just like I did last summer. Next year, I graduate from school.

"After that...who knows? I have Rita and together we can do lots of things."

THE "CONSEQUENCE" WAS BETTER THAN THE "TRUTH"—Norma Sharrett, student at the School for Blind at Nebraska City, is shown as she appears on Ralph Edwards' "Truth and Consequence" radio show in Hollywood, and is surprised with the news that she was to receive a "guide" dog as a gift. At the broadcast with Norma are Ralph Edwards, with mike, and left to right, Capt. L. A. Kreimer, trainer of guide dogs, John Wayne, movie star, Norma, and J. N. Jones, sr. (Star Photo Service.)

MRS. HAROLD S. McNABB, JR.

Miss Marguerite Nootz Weds Harold McNabb, Jr.

White and pink gladioli decorated the altar, and white candles burning in pedestal candelabra appointed the chancel of the First Evangelical United Brethren church, Tuesday evening, June 7, for the marriage of Miss Marguerite Louise Nootz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Nootz, to Harold Sanderson McNabb, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. McNabb. In the presence of three hundred guests, the Rev. John F. Wichelt read the lines of the 7 o'clock ceremony.

As the candles were lighted by Miss Irene Wellensiek of Syracuse, and Miss Florence Arnold of Scotia, wearing white taffeta choir robes, Miss Elaine Carroll sang, "Thine Alone," "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. James Harris, organist. Mrs. Harris presented a prelude including "Because," "Clair de Lune," "I Love You Truly," and the Delta Upsilon sweetheart song, and also played the wedding music.

Miss Geraldine Tubman was the maid of honor and wore a period gown of yellow taffeta. Frocked in identical gowns of leaf green taffeta were the bridesmaids, Miss Margery McNabb, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Janet Nutzman of Nehawka. Deep, sheer yokes and short cap sleeves designed the fitted bodices, and double tiers of taffeta caught up in pouf bustles accented the full skirts of the attendants' gowns. They wore wrist-length mitts of nylon, and halo headbands of taffeta trimmed with chignon bows to match their frocks. Talisman roses and white daisies fashioned their colonial bouquets.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a gown of dropstitch organza in the Victorian mode. The basqued bodice was designed with a portrait neckline and full sleeves cuffed snugly below the elbow. The skirt was gathered into extreme fullness beneath a modified bustle and ended in a chapel-length train. She wore a mantilla veil of Chantilly lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Serving Mr. McNabb as best man was Glenn Curtis, and seating the guests were Helmut Maedche of Follett, Tex., Derald May of Gothenburg, Lloyd Wesley Morrison and Robert Kurth, both of Lincoln.

White tapers in a Venetian glass candelabra, and a matching bowl filled with garden flowers formed the centerpiece for the bridal table at the reception, which was held in the parlors of the church. Included among those assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ralph E. Garner, sister of the bride, Miss Genene Mitchell, Mrs. Lloyd Wesley Morrison, Mrs. Donald Schmidt, Miss JoAnne Nootz, Miss Helen Jean Dinsmore, Miss Charlotte Nelson, Miss Beverly Jackson, Miss Verniel Lundquist, Miss Marian McElhaney, Miss Marjorie Estes, Miss Barbara Durland and Mrs. Russell Hawkins.

Mr. McNabb and his bride left for a wedding trip to Estes and Yellowstone national parks, after which they will spend the summer in northern Idaho where Mr. McNabb will be employed by the U. S. Forest Service. The couple will later reside at New Haven, Conn., while Mr. McNabb completes graduate work in botany at Yale university. Mrs. McNabb wore for traveling a white and black silk print frock with accessories in the black and toast shades.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, the bride is a member of Pi Lambda Theta and served as a senior attendant to the May Queen this spring. Mr. McNabb is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is a member of Alpha Phi Omega and Delta Upsilon, and an associate member of Sigma Xi.

SO THIS IS WEDNESDAY-

and we take up where we left off yesterday—

We meant to tell you Tuesday that Miss Phyllis Watkins is home from the University of Arizona, and arriving with her was a house guest—Miss Marilyn Chartrand, a classmate at the University of Arizona, who stopped off in Lincoln en route to her home in Englewood, N. J.

Miss Chartrand leaves on Thursday to continue her journey east, but during her brief stay informal affairs have been arranged in her honor.

We hear, too, that Miss Watkins plans to leave later this month to attend summer school at the University of Wisonsin.

IN TOWN FOR A MONTH'S visit is Miss Marillen McFarland, who is on a month's leave of absence from Cook county hospital, Chicago, where she is a therapeutic dietician. Miss McFarland is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarland, and will visit her sister, Mrs. Charles Velte, in Fremont—

The visitor is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Delta Gamma.

ONE OF THE MONDAY evening parties was the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Kingery were host and hostess at their home, complimenting their son, Wayne, and his fiancee, Miss Kathryn Jane Seymour of Manitowac, Wis., whose marriage was an event of Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Kingery entertained the members of the families at Hotel Cornhusker.

NOTHINC LIKE READING another paper to find out what goes on in your own home town—Read in the Nebraska City paper that Dr. and Mrs. Carl Norden would be leaving early in July for Sweden where they will spend several weeks. The story also tells us that Dr. Norden was born in Sweden, but came to the United States when he was eight years old.

Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Beth Jane Pickerel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Pickerel of Genoa, to Charles William Franz, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Franz of Lincoln, was solemnized at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, June 5, at the Congregational church at Genoa. The Rev. Charles W. Seward read the lines of the ceremony before an altar appointed with bouquets of spring garden flowers, and white candles burning in seven-branched candelabra. Nosegays of mock orange blossoms tied with satin decorated the pews the length of the central aisle.

As the candles were lighted by Miss Jacqueline Curtis and Miss Sandra Elm, frocked alike in yellow dotted Swiss, Mrs. Claude Elm, pianist, presented a prelude including Chopin"s Prelude in A, "Traumerei," and "Londonderry Air." Mrs. Elm also played the wedding music and accompanied Max Paulson who sang, "Because," and Miss Dorothy Senften who sang, "Now and Forever," preceding the ceremony.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. L. W. Holland of Chamberlain, S. D., who was frocked in dotted organza in the nile green shade. A softly draped fichu collar designed the basque bodice and extremely full skirt, and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations The bridesmaids, Mrs Maurice Pickerel, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Gretchen Schmadeke, both of Lincoln, wore identical gowns of yellow dotted organza. Their bouquets were fashioned of green-tinted carnations. Frocked in white organdy over nile green satin was the flower girl, Miss Patricia Hollard of Chamberlain, S. D., niece of the bride.

For her wedding, the bride wore a period gown of white marquisette over satin. Embroidered marquisette ruffles framed the deep yoke of net, and long, closely fitted sleeves completed the basque bodice. The ruffle motif was repeated in the trim of the brief peplum, beneath which the full skirt tapered into a ruffle-edged train. A Mary, Queen of Scots, bonnet brim trimmed with seed pearls, held her French illusion veil, and she carried a shower bouquet of white feathered carnations.

Early June Ceremony

Bouquets of white snapdragons and gladioli marked the chancel steps, and lighted cathedral tapers in seven-branched candelabra decorated the altar of the First Methodist church for the marriage of Miss La Dean Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham, to James M. Bowmaster of Beatrice son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bowmaster, last Saturday evening, June 4. White candles trimmed with bows of white satin and sprays of greenery were also used to mark each pew the length of the central aisle, and the lines of the 8:30 o'clock ceremony were read by the Rev. T. V. Hubbell.

Preceding the service, as the three hundred guests assembled, Mrs. Evelyn Cunningham Young sang "Because" and Grieg's "I Love Thee," and Mrs. Earl Faulkner sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Miss Mildred Ohslund, organist. Miss Ohslund also played the wedding music.

Wearing alike gowns of pastel blue taffeta and wrist corsages of yellow feathered carnations were Miss Shirley Bolen and Miss Jacquie Boeka, who lighted the altar candles. Maid of honor was Miss Loretta Graham of Des Moines, Iowa, cousin of the bride, who was frocked in peach taffeta designed in the colonial mode. A wide bertha collar accented the fitted bodice and flared skirt, and her wrist-length mitts were of matching peach lace. The bridesmaids, Miss Eloise Escue and Mrs. Don Nelson, wore identical gowns of peach and yellow taffeta similar to the maid of honor's, and all the attendants carried carnation bouquets in pastel tones and wore clusters of the flowers in their hair.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a colonial gown of white satin. A tiered collar of satin edged with lace framed the marquisette yoke in the off-shoulder mode, and the fitted bodice was completed with long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The skirt was gathered into fullness over side panniers and tapered into a train, and a satin Mary, Queen of Scots, brim held her illusion veil. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses.

Bill Bowmaster served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Wendell G. Graham, brother of the bride, Don Harrington, and Marshall Bowmaster and Ralph Bowmaster, brothers of the bridegroom.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church following the ceremony where a tiered wedding cake decorated with white and blue blossoms and greenery appointed the refreshment table. Among those assisting at the reception were Mrs. John Johnston, Mrs. Otto Zemke, Mrs. Kenneth Hill, Mrs. Ray Bowmaster, Mrs. Marshall Bowmaster, Mrs. Ralph Bowmaster, Miss Jo Rette Owens of Abilene, Tex., and Miss Delores Frantz of Goehner.

Following a wedding trip to the Black Hills, the couple will make their home at Beatrice. For traveling, Mrs. Bowmaster wore a suit of gray gabardine with a navy wool topper, navy taffeta hat and matching accessories.

A former student of Nebraska Wesleyan university and of Hardin Simmons at Abilene, Tex., the bride also attended the University of Nebraska. Mr. Bowmaster is a former student of the University of Nebraska.

MRS JAMES BOWMASTER MRS JAMES A STOCKWELL

Wedding Was Event Of Late May

At an 11 o'clock morning ceremony, Wednesday, May 25, Miss Marjorie Cody, daughter of Mrs. Stacia Cody, became the bride of James A. Stockwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stockwell of Hartington, at St. Mary's Cathedral. Garden flowers in pastel shades of blue and white, and lighter white tapers, decorated the altar for the service the lines of which were read by the Rev. C. J. Riordan in the presence of one hundred fifty guests.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. A. W. Gloe sang, accompanied by Miss Bobbie Weiler, organist. Miss Weiler also played the wedding music.

Mrs. Eugene Cody of Lincoln attended her sister-in-law as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Evelyn Bonk and Miss Marjorie Bonk of Columbus, and Miss Faye Nehring of Deshler. The attendants' identical gowns were fashioned of forget-me-not blue taffeta with portrait necklines, and full, bustle-backed skirts. Wreaths of white blossoms veiled with blue tulle formed their headdresses. Mrs. Cody carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centered with red roses, and the bridesmaids' bouquets were of blue-tinted carnations. Frocked in a floor-length gown of white taffeta trimmed with ruffles of blue lace was the flower girl, Miss Carolyn Andrews, cousin of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Eugene Cody, and wore a gown of traditional white satin. Seed pearls embroidered in a feather motif outlined the deep V neckline of the fitted bodice, and the long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The full skirt tapered into a train, and her lace-edged veil of illusion was held by a tulle halo trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of red roses.

John Stockwell served as best man, and the ushers were Clarence Kucta, Lawrence Stratman and Acel Gloe.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast for the members of the family and the bridal party was held at the home of Mrs. Jay Haviland, followed later in the afternoon by a reception for one hundred fifty guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Cooley. Included among those assisting at the reception were Miss Catherine Cooley, Miss Jane Andrews, Miss Donna Bills, Miss Barbara Bills, Miss Mary Lou Sabin and Miss Donna Parks.

Mr. Stockwell and his bride left for a wedding trip to Lake Okoboji, Iowa, after which they will reside in Lincoln. For traveling, Mrs. Stockwell wore a suit of gray and navy blue gabardine with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. Stockwell is a former student of the University of Nebraska.

Conservation Supervisors Plan For Year

...6 States At Meet

Northern great plains states soil conservation experts Tuesday began outlining their program for the next year.

Regional Conservator A. E. McClymonds of Lincoln said farmers and ranchers in the area now have 408 conservation districts. These cover 246,500,000 acres—over 70 per cent of the land in the six states of Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, Wyoming and North and South Dakota.

More than 80,000 farmers and ranchers are in the districts.

In addition, McClymonds said, there are 20,000 others who have applied to district supervisors for aid in conservation practices.

He added that there are now 25 more districts totaling 16,500,000 acres than a year ago.

State conservationists and assistants attending the sessions here are:

F. J. Sykes, H. G. Bobst and W. H. Teas of Salina, Kas.; E. C. Jones, A. R. Marquardt and H. F. Taggs, of Lincoln; Ross D. Davies and A. L. Ford, Huron, S. D.; A. D. McKinnon, L. G. Lloyd and M. H. Braus, Bismarck, N. D.; T. C. Anderson, H. D. Hurd and E. H. Sanderson, Bozeman, Mont., and E. A. Reeves and J. A. Bartruff, Laramie, Wyo.

College View High School Area Extended

The Lincoln school board Tuesday increased the area for pupils who may attend College View high school.

The board extended the boundary line northward from Van Dorn to the center of South street, and west from Thirty-third to Twenty-seventh street.

This additional territory will be considered optional for pupils to attend either College View high school or Lincoln high school.

It also was announced at the meeting that Miss Eva Erickson, Irving Junior high school teacher, has been chosen as the Lincoln participant in an Aviation Workshop at Teachers college at Columbia university this summer.

In other action the board:

1. Approved renting the swimming pool at Northeast high school to the Red Cross for summer swimming activities.
2. Approved the establishing of an Art Crafts Vacation school at Irving junior high school from June 13 to July 25 and of a Home and Family Life Education Vacation school at Whittier Junior high school for the same period.
3. Approved the election of the following teachers for the 1949-50 school year: Mrs. Ethel Senn, Miss Arlene Mae Heinz, Mrs. Gwen Sandsted, and Mrs. Reba Wroth, all of Lincoln, and Miss Margaret Ann Cobb, Broken Bow.

The American people lost an average of $771,000 a year to passers of counterfeit bills from 1933 to 1936.

BY PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 9

As soon as he reached his cabin he started to work on the wood pile. He split a whole cord before stopping for supper. Work; that was the antidote. How well he knew it!

By the time Saturday arrived, Jeff had partaken of enough antidote to restore him to something near his normal outlook on life. He had firmly convinced himself that Connie was never intended for old and homely he. He had even succeeded in persuading himself to believe that a marriage between Connie and Glenn would be the best thing in the world that could happen.

Due to the excitement over the killing of Sam Tolson, he had neglected to purchase his supplies on his previous visit to Cougar, so he rode to town late Saturday afternoon.

As he entered the store, a lively discussion which had been under way came to an abrupt halt. Jeff glanced about him. Besides Hank Wolfanger, the owner, he saw Chuck Gale and two of his men, a cowboy from the Crown, a miner named Benson, and Bud Snyder, the undertaker.

Jeff moved over to the counter. "I interrupt something?" he inquired.

"Yeah, you did." It was Chuck Gale who answered, and his voice was flat and cold. He went on as Jeff turned slowly to face him. "Bud was wonderin'—and he got us to wonderin', too—how come there were powder burns around the wound in Sam's head."

"That's easy. Glenn shot him. For no reason whatever—just like that." He fixed Gale with a cold stare. "That's what you're thinking, isn't it?"

"There could 'a' been a reason. Sam's gold. They took that shack apart without findin' it."

His two men had been standing near him; now one moved a few paces away and the other started edging in the opposite direction.

"Stand hitched, boys," came the drawling voice of the Crown puncher. "You make me nervous, movin' around thataway."

Gale's two men halted where they were.

"I'm waiting, Chuck," said Jeff quietly, "to hear you say that you were just—wondering."

"I told you that's all we were doin'—wonderin'," he said sulkily.

He turned to Hank and ordered the few things he wanted, then passed out of the store. The Crown puncher came trailing after him. Outside, Jeff said, "Much obliged, cowboy."

"Think nothin' of it," answered the other. "Keep your eye on that Chuck feller. He's bad medicine, and you made him eat cold crow in public. He ain't the bird to forget.

Jeff found Glenn in his kitchen eating supper, and drew a chair up to the table. Glenn was enthusiastic over his new office and declared that he had already made some profitable connections.

"That's fine," said Jeff heartily. "And here's something you'll like: Connie's invited us over to the Crown tomorrow with the guarantee that there won't be any free-for-all fights on the menu."

"She has? That's great! I'll ride out to your place and pick you up. No need for your coming to Cougar."

Jeff nodded. "While I'm here, there's one little point about the shooting of Sam Tolson that I'd like you to clear up for me. Seems that Bud Snyder, the undertaker, found powder marks around the wound on Sam's head. I got the idea that Sam was standing in the doorway when he was shot, and that's some dozen feet away from the window."

Glenn grinned. "That's what comes from being literal. As a matter of fact, Sam wasn't in the doorway at all. We both went to the table by the bunk, and Sam got the gun out of a drawer and handed it to me. I backed off a step or two and he took a stride toward the door. I could see him outlined against the starlight. In the darkness it looked as though he were standing in the entrance, but of course he wasn't. The crash of glass came right afterwards, and the shot right on top of it. I think Slug was up against the window and just poked his gun through the glass and fired. It all came so suddenly that—well, it's hard to remember exact details. But that's the way it must have been." He cocked an eyebrow at Jeff. "You certainly don't think that I shot him?"

"My gosh, no. But Bud made the mistake of telling it to Chuck Gale, and Chuck doesn't like you a bit, so he was quite busy making the most of it. Sam's gold is missing, too; but I showed them how Slug could have reached through the window and taken it. But it sure riles me to hear a fellow like Chuck Gale running you down, when you ran the risk of warning Sam."

The Sunday spent at the Crown was all that could be desired. The dinner was excellent, Glenn spent the afternoon riding with Connie, ad Jeff lounged on the gallery with Jeb King. He liked the cattleman and felt that the liking was returned. Connie and Glenn came in at sundown, flushed and happy as a pair of kids, and Mrs. King wouldn't let them leave until they had supper. It was almost dark when they started for home.

It was pitch dark when they reached the trail to Jeff's homestead on the north side of the valley. Here they said good night, and Glenn continued toward Cougar. Jeff walked Red along the dark trail.

Red bore him through the blackness to the southwest corner of his little spread, but instead of stopping for Jeff to open the gate he kept right on. Jeff reined in, remembering distinctly that he had closed the gate after him that morning. He got down and started back on foot, tripped over some wire and went down.

He swore worriedly and struck a match. By its light he saw that the whole section of fence was down. He returned to Red and rode swiftly to the house for a lantern. The fear that had been welling up within him was justified. Not only was his fence down, but every one of his twenty precious Herefords was gone!

Man Had Brick In His Stomach For 10 Years

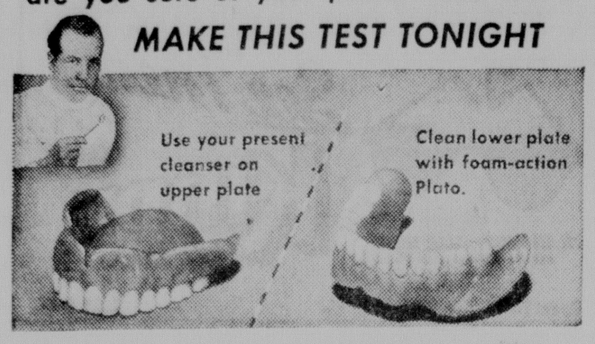
One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with g.. and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking INNER-AID and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, the gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores.

FALSE TEETH WEARERS

are you sure of your present cleanser?

MAKE THIS TEST TONIGHT



The results in two days will amaze you!

You'll see, taste, and feel the difference

You owe it to yourself to make this convincing test. No other product removes tobacco film better—leaves teeth more natural looking than Plato. No other cleaning method so thoroughly removes the imbedded bacteria-laden film which your dentist will tell you causes bad breath. Yet Plato is as safe and harmless to plates as pure water.

You Can Actually See It Work!

You yourself can actually see how foam-action Plato goes to work, instantly. Wherever there is film or bacteria on your plate, a stream of tiny bubbles begins to rise, taking with them all of the foreign matter that makes the plate taste bad and look dingy. In a minute or so you are ready to remove your plate, brush it lightly (if you desire) and rinse. How good it tastes—how cool and clean it feels!

Why Does Plato Do Better Work?

Because Plato alone contains Miranol, a remarkable discovery of dental science. Other products without Miranol cannot possibly be as effective—soaps, pastes, gritty cleansers that wear down the plate, old "soaking" solutions. Yet Plato is more economical to use than toothpaste. And Plato is safe for your fine dental plate.

Get a can of Plato from your druggist today. Make this test. If you don't agree that Plato is the finest product you ever used, bar none, return the can and get double-your-money-back. What could be fairer and squarer than that?

College View High Diplomas To 22 Seniors

College View high school graduated 22 seniors at commencement ceremonies Tuesday night at the College View Seventh-day Adventist church.

Senior speeches were given by Dick Barnes, speaking on "Appreciation: Our Finest Quality," and Donna Andrus on the "North Atlantic Treaty." Dellamae Poland, who was to speak on "America: Land of Freedom and Opportunity," was absent because of illness.

Donna Andrus is the class valedictoria and Joan Hedges salutatorian.

Miss Hazel Scott, College View principal, presented the senior class to Dr. John P. Senning, vice-president of the board of education, who awarded the diplomas.

The invocation was given by Rev. L. F. Obrist and the benediction by Rev. L. W. Welch.

The school's triple trio sang two songs, "Lullaby Moon" and "Now Is The Hour."

North Atlantic Pact.

In her speech, Miss Andrus told of the philosophy behind the North Atlantic pact. "The Atlantic ocean is no longer a barrier between the United States and western Europe," she explained.

"Therefore, she continued, "it is necessary to set up the defense alliance within the framework of both the American constitution and the United Nations charter to assure western Europe of continued freedom."

Golden Rule.

Dick Barnes told of the need for observing the "Golden Rule" in order to make a better world. "It has been taught by philosophers of all nations for thousands of years," he said, "and still is a good rule of conduct."

The graduates are:

Donna Andrus	Joyce Jeffery
Dick Barnes	Darlene Phipps
Bovne Barker	Dellamae Poland
Beverly Cobeligh	Lloyd Priess
Marilyn Dunham	Verlan Rumbaugh
Larry Dutton	Don Smith
Earl Elliot	Shirley Sorensen
Bob Forney	Eugene Smith
Joan Joan Hedges	Don Svoboda

Ritchie Comments On Beutel Action

OMAHA—(INS)—William Ritchie, Omaha attorney who recently demanded the resignation of Dean Frederick K. Beutel of the college of law of the University of Nebraska, had the following comment today:

"The effect of the action of the board of regents in announcing Mr. Beutel's resignation as dean and continuing him as a fulltime professor, will be determined by the views of the man selected as his successor.

"If he agrees with Mr. Beutel that 'contracts, torts, criminal law and processes are no longer fundamental,' or believes that our judicial system is 'hopelessly archaic,' the board's action will not bode well for the future of the school."

Communist Teacher Ban Is Favored

Topflight Educators, Including Eisenhower, Would Set Up A Bar

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Twenty topflight educators—including Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harvard President James B. Conant—said today communists should be barred from the teaching profession.

They agreed, too, that principles of communism should be taught—but not advocated — in American schools.

Their charge that communist membership "renders an individual unfit to discharge the duties of a teacher in this country" was described by a National Education association official as the most outspoken statement on that subject ever made by an education group of nationwide standing.

Eisenhower, now president of Columbia university, Conant and 18 fellow members of an educational policies commission made their observations in a 54-page report on "American education and international tensions."

Long Cold War Seen.

The commission was appointed by the National Education association and the American Association of School Administrators.

Its purpose was to study the teaching changes that might be advisable in view of political tensions that may "keep the world in a state of cold war for years to come."

The commission listed these "main lines of strategy" for American education:

1. "Young citizens should have an opportunity to learn about the principles and practices of totalitarianism, including those represented by the Soviet Union and by the Communist party in the United States. The study should be accurate and objective, and should make use of basic official documents."

2. "Teaching about communism or any other form of dictatorship does not mean advocacy of these doctrines. Such advocacy should not be permitted in American schools. While we expose and combat subversive activities in this country and abroad x x x we must at the same time curb reactionary forces which would use anti-communist sentiment as a club to threaten every effort to improve society through education."

3. "The schools should continue with vigor their programs for giving young citizens a clear understanding of the principles of the American way of life and a desire to make these principles prevail."

4. "Members of the communist party of the United States should not be employed as teachers."

$1,748,154 Gas Tax Collected On New Basis

... During May

Distribution of the gasoline tax for the month of May was based upon the new percentages set by the state legislature although collections were only the old five cents a gallon. However, because of increased consumption, the counties will receive more money than they did in April, Edward Gillette, state treasurer, said today.

Apportionment.

Under the new law, one-sixth of the tax goes to mail routes or $291,359; of the balance 30 per cent goes to the counties or $437,038. The state gets the other 70 per cent or $1,019,756. The total collection was $1,748,154.

Under the old law, the combined county share was 37½ per cent and the state share 62½ per cent.

April collections gave the counties $374,795 from the regular tax and $249,863 for mail routes.

Lancaster county for May will receive $26,027 from the regular tax as compared with $22,320 in April and $17, 351 in mail routes funds as compared with the April grant of $14,880. Payments to other counties included:

Mrs. Hope's Benefit Raffle Stopped By Vice Squad Members

LOS ANGELES—(AP) — Vice squad members visited the home of comedian Bob Hope and stopped a church benefit raffle.

Sgt. David McCoy said no arrests were made last Sunday because Mrs. Hope said she didn't know that a raffle for such purposes was illegal.

Several paddlewheels were confiscated by the officers, Mrs. Hope said. The affair, attended by more than 1,200 persons, was a benefit for a convent in nearby Alhambra.

Musial's Spree Pacing Cardinals

KNOCKS TWO HOMERS, SWATS ALL RUNS IN 3-0 WIN OVER THE GIANTS

BY JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

AS STAN MUSIAL GOES, so go the St. Louis Cardinals. Never was a truer statement made.

Look at the record. Musial got off to a miserable start. So did the Cards. On May 24, just 15 days ago, St. Louis' three-time batting champ was hitting a puny .250. Accordingly, the Cardinals were mired in seventh place with a 12-17 won and lost record.

Since then, Stan the man has rapped out 22 hits in 58 times at bat for a .379 batting average. Conformably, the Redbirds went on a tear, winning 13 of 15 games.

STAN MUSIAL.

Today, Musial is hitting a steadily progressive .301, and the surging Cardinals are in second place, only a half game away from the top.

The Redbirds whipped the New York Giants, 3-0, at the Polo Grounds Tuesday night, and as might be expected, it was Musial who provided the big punch. Stan clubbed two homers off Monte Kennedy, his 10th and 11th of the season, to drive in all the runs.

Either one would have been enough for southpaw Harry Brecheen. Harry, The Cat, looking more like the pitcher of 1948 than at any time this year, scattered five blows.

CARDS IN SECOND.

The victory moved the Cards past the Giants into second place, a half game behind the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Brooks took over undisputed possession of first place by trouncing Chicago, 7-1. The Giants dropped from a first place tie to fourth place, a half game behind the Boston Braves, who nipped the Cincinnati Reds, 6-5. The Braves trail the Cards by three percentage points.

The Philadelphia Phils scored two runs in the bottom half of the ninth to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-5, after the Bucs had counted once in the top half of the inning.

Detroit defeated the New York Yankees 5-2, in the American league's only day contest, to cut the front running Yankees' lead to five and a half games. Bob Swift's home run with a man on base highlighted a three-run fourth inning enabling Hal Newhouser to register his fifth victory. Ed Lopat was charged with the defeat, his first against five victories.

Larry Doby crashed two homers to lead the Cleveland Indians to a 13-11 slugfest victory over the Washington Senators. Eight pitchers saw action, Satchell Paige getting credit for the victory.

Lefty Lou Brissie struck out 10 in pitching the Philadelphia Athletics to a 7-4 victory over the White Sox in Chicago.

Red Embree won his second game against seven defeats for the St. Louis Browns this season, outpitching Mel Parnell of the Boston Red Sox, 5-2.

Dark Horse Has Chance

. . . In National Open

CHICAGO—(AP) — Remember Sam Parks, jr.?

He captured the 1935 National Open at Pittsburgh's Oakmont Country club with 299, eleven over par. No one knew Parks before he won. Nobody has heard of him since.

He was the National Open's great "unknown" winner.

Freddie Corcoran, former P.G.A. tournament bureau manager and now editor of golf's official guide, thinks the props are set for another rank outsider to snatch golf's most coveted title.

With the 49th National Open beginning Thursday at Medinah's exacting No. 3 course a guy named Joe may shove the Nelsons, Sneads, Lockes, Demarets and Mangrums out of the headlines.

HOME TOWN HEROES.

There are plenty of so-called small fries in the field of 162 teeing off in the first 18 holes session. They are heroes in their nome territories but are lost in the herd outside.

They are hopefuls like Rip Arnold of Denver, Lou Broward of Jacksonville, Fla., Walt Blevins, Mission, Kas.; Joe Burch, Mobile, Ala.; George Kinsman, Three Lakes, Wis.; Jerry Barber, Pasadena, Calif.; Mike Pavella Washington, Pa.; Jack Harden, El Paso; John Stahl of New Orleans and scores of others.

Many won't be around when the field is sliced to the 60 low scorers for Saturday's 36-hole windup. Among those who are there may be another Parks.

"A lot of great shots will be wasted on this course," said Corcoran. "The fellow who wins will be shadowed by luck. The champion could easily be another Parks.

"The course with its slim fairways, heavy woods and small greens—is really so hard the guy who can't play may win. That sounds funny—but it might be the answer. The pros say it's the toughest test since Oakmont a sun-baked backbreaker in 1935 which has always been a measuring stick for toughness."

NEW YORK — (AP) — Junior golf, a game few kids can afford to play in these times, appears to be in for a big summer if the players can turn themselves into twins . . . Bob Harlow has rounded up the schedule for golf world and it shows five "National" junior tournaments . . . The National junior fourball at Charlotte, N. C., leads off June 27-30 and Carolinians tab a home-club boy, Bobby Sisk, as the standout in the field . . . The second U.S.G.A. Junior championship will be held at Washington D. C., July 27-30 and the U.S.G.A. is making it easier on the pocketbook by quartering the kids at Georgetown university . . . Two more national tournaments are due to start August 2—one at Houston, Tex., sponsored by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce with the support of the P.G.A. and the Athletic Institute of America and the other at Chicago's Medinah club, site of the National Open, sponsored by the Hearst newspapers . . . And finally there's the National Caddies championship at Columbus, O. . . Maybe the smart kids will pass them all up and go fishing.

Games Rained Out

All softball games at both Muny and Ballard fields Wednesday night have been called off. The City league baseball games scheduled at Sherman Field Wednesday night have been postponed until Friday.

Glassford Eyes Curtis

. . . Fall Practice Site

Husker football mentor Bill Glassford left Lincoln Wednesday morning to investigate the possibility of holding a football training camp at the Curtis school of agriculture early this fall.

Glassford has not definitely made up his mind but said that if the Curtis layout is anything like the description he got, it is what he is looking for.

By having an out-of-town training camp Glassford hopes to get more than two weeks of practice without the interruptions encountered on the city campus in the early fall.

The Curtis school is a branch of the University of Nebraska. It has two football fields, but limited space for indoor practice. The players would be housed and fed at the Curtis school during their training stay.

Coach Glassford is anxious to find a workable arrangement awaiting for him at Curtis because so much time was losts in spring practice due to foul weather.

If the plan works it will be the first time a Nebraska grid squad has traveled out of town for early practice for over 30 years.

Jeers Now Cheers For A. Seminick

. . . Sparks Phils Now

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Philadelphia's baseball fans and Phillies catcher Andy Seminick have reached an understanding

Time was when the bleacher boys jeered as Andy strode to the plate. And even Andy couldn't blame them too much. His bat wasn't exactly the most potent in the National league.

It's a different story now. The jeers have turned to cheers for Andy's bat is hotter than a blacksmith's hammer.

Backstop Seminick has come a long way since the Phils gathered in Florida for spring training this year.

There were two other catchers on hand, Rookies Stan Lopata and Ken Silvestri. And Manager Eddie Sawyer started telling the world that Lopata was shaping up as his first string catcher.

Seminick sat out the Phillies' first few games and there wasn't a bluer baseball player in either major league.

Lopata did a good job behind the plate but the Phils needed someone with a little more experience in the lineup.

Seminick redonned his chest protector and mask for action but his hitting still produced boos from the Shibe park crowds.

Then came Memorial day and the Phillies began their current home stand. Up to that point, Seminick had hit three homers. He clouted one on May 30th and since then has added four more—including three in one game against Cincinnati, two of them in one inning to equal a major league mark.

In 30 games, Seminick has batted .286—a mark that has been rising steadily. He has batted in 20 runs, 14 in the present home stand. He has one triple and four doubles to his credit.

But the big story behind Seminick is his new found ability to spark the team. A half dozen times in the last 10 days, he has been the one to start or keep alive batting rallies.

Tuesday night against the Pittsburgh Pirates Seminick had two singles in five trips to the plate and each came when most needed. The first aided an eighth inning rally that tied the score at 4-4 and the second drove home the winning run in the ninth.

Some time ago, when Seminick was mentioned in trade rumors, he expressed the hope they weren't true.

"I like Philadelphia and the Philadelphia fans," he said.

With the fans the feeling is now mutual.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING—Stan Musial, Cards. Socked his 10th and 11th homers of the season and drove home all Card runs in St. Louis' 3-0 triumph over New York.

PITCHING—Harry Brecheen, Cards. Blanked Giants on five hits in pitching St. Louis to 3-0 victory, his first shutout of the season.

Football Test Case Upheld

GREEN BAY, Wis.—(INS)—A test case involving a national football league contract with a player concerning the release clause has been upheld in a Green Bay court.

Judge Edward M. Duquaine Tuesday dismissed Charles Tollefson's suit against the Green Bay Packers for back pay.

Tollefson, former Iowa guard who played with the Packers in 1944 and 1945, sued the NFL club for $2,700 back pay following his release after the second league game in 1946. He claimed the balance was due under the '46 contract.

The football player's lone witness during the jury trial was cut short by Packer attorney Jerry Clifford's motion for dismissal.

Judge Duquaine agreed with Clifford that the contract was not for the entire season and that the club had a right to terminate the agreement.

The judge held that the notation for $1,600 due for the season did not constitute a guarantee of employment for that period.

AA Race Close; Saints Cop Lead

The Saints grabbed a 7-6 decision over Indianapolis Tuesday to bounce back on top with .646. The Tribe was jostled into second with .640.

It took 10 innings for the Saints' victory.

Louisville, struggling to emerge from the cellar, snatched a 6-4 triumph in 14 innings from Milwaukee.

Fourth-place Minneapolis exploded for five runs in the seventh to break a 2-2 deadlock and defeat Toledo, 8-2.

Columbus' date at Kansas City was washed out. They play a doubleheader Wednesday.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
